KING CITY WOMAN CRITICALLY HURT

Mrs. Beatrice Jean McKay, wife of Dr. D. Campbell McKay, King City, suffered critical injuries and severe shock in an accident Friday night. Four Hamilton soldiers, stationed at Camp Borden, were less seriously injured, in the collision involving three cars and a truck, on Highway No. 27, north of the Albion Road, Etobicoke township, near Clairville. The accident happened at the height of a wet snowfall.

Mrs. McKay was admitted to Peel Memorial hospital, Brampton, with fractures to both legs, concussion, and facial lacerations. Her condition at that time was very grave.

Taken to Sunnybrook hospital, Toronto, were Cpl. W. V. Coughlin, Rifleman L. C. Joseph, and Rifleman E. W. Hebdon. Cpl. W. J. Mucar was uninjured.

Police said the soldiers' car, driven by Cpl. Coughlin, hit the side of an approaching truck, careened out of control into another car, and then crashed head-on into the car driven by Dr. McKay. The doctor said the soldiers' car was headed straight for his as he tried to head for the ditch. The car was completely wrecked.

TRADE FAIR MEET

The annual meeting of Trade Fair exhibitors will be held on Monday, Feb. 11, at 8.30 p.m. in the King George hotel. All Newmarket businessmen are invited to be present. This is a doubly important meeting for the exhibitors as the disposition of show-space will be discussed. Applications for show space will also be received at this meeting but no applications will be considered after this date.

Reply To Night Class Query

In an effort to establish how much demand there was for night classes, the Era and Express last week sent out the questionnaire which appears below. Since last Thursday, there have been 35 returned with choices of subjects ranging from etching, to the study of English, to sewing and carpentering.

In recent weeks, there had been considerable discussion in and about Newmarket and Aurora over the possibilities of night classes. Many said that they would attend such classes if they were established and if the subjects they taught were acceptable.

But before a night class can be established, some idea of the number who would attend it must be established. If there are enough students for any one class, a teacher can be arranged for, a classroom found, and the course started.

As a public service, the Era and Express has undertaken to find out the demand for these classes and the choice of subjects.

MEET OPTIMIST CHIEF AT DIST. CONVENTION

Last Friday evening members of the Optimist club of Newmarket attended a dinner for District 15, Zone 5, Optimists, in Toronto, where Roly Nall, the International president, was the guest speaker.

Members attending were from the East Toronto Optimists, West Toronto club, Uptown club and Downtown Optimists, also from Peterborough, Oakville, Keswick and Newmarket.

President Jack Hamilton of the Newmarket club introduced the International president at the dinner.

District Parents Take Advantage Of Monthly Child Health Clinics

The baby carriages line up early outside the York County Health Unit, Main St., Newmarket, on the last Friday afternoon of each month from 1.30 to 4 p.m., when Dr. Robert M. King, director, Miss V. A. Smyth, R.N., supervisor of Public Health nurses, Miss Carol Moorehead, R.N., and members of the Newmarket Women's Institute, conduct a Child Health Centre for infants and pre-school children.

An attractive blue and white waiting room adjoins the consultation room, and on Friday, Jan. 25, two Women's Institute members, Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. Herbert Dunham, were greeting new arrivals, making out record cards, and weighing the children.

Mrs. Dave Mathewson, Newmarket, came in with Kenny, age 4, and Jane, 2, who had been having inoculations on previous visits. Mrs. J. Lainsbury was there with Peter George, 5 months old on January 28. Mrs. Lainsbury is a graduate of Brantford Hospital who has nursed at Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto, and believes that the Child Health Centre is a great help to mothers wanting advice on health and behavior problems. Mr. and Mrs. M. Kaczmarek were paying their first visit to the Centre, with Marilyn, 7 months, and Diane, 10 months. Both girls celebrated their birthdays that day. The family came to Canada five years ago from Germany under the immigration scheme and Mr. Kaczmarek, who first worked in a bush camp at Fort William, is now a gardener at Holland Marsh. Other new Canadians were Mr. and Mrs. A. Kluczynska, Newmarket, and their daughters Maria, 8 months, and Jadwiga, 3 years, who came to this country a year and a half ago from Heilbronn, Germany. Jadwiga's last immunization certificate had on it the stamp of the International Refugee Organization.

Also present at the Centre were Mrs. J. Banks with Gloria Banks, 7, and Richard Gamble, 9 months; Mrs. Roy Moshier and Ronnie, 16 months; Mrs. George Stuart with Donna Stuart, 3 years, and Wayne Yates, 7 months; Mrs. G. Cable and Peg, 18 months and Leonard, 3 years, and others during the afternoon.

A detailed health record is kept for each child, and, if his parents approve, he may receive inoculations against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, and smallpox. Free pamphlets, published by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, are available. Sample titles read: "Your Baby's Teeth", "The School Lunch", "Shyness", "Baby-Talk". Colorful posters on nutrition are placed around the room.

The atmosphere is friendly and pleasant conversation goes on despite the noise made by an average of 25 small children. The York County Health Unit would like to see many more parents take advantage of this community service. The Child Health Centre works with the healthy

Sutton Drive Brings $1,400 For Cheveignes

Nearly $1,400 has been raised for a new Canadian farmer, Maurice de Cheveigne, Sutton, who lost his barn and stock of purebred hogs in a fire a few weeks ago.

From two theatre nights and a public subscription campaign, a committee of Sutton and district township citizens has raised the money, bought building blocks and gravel and are preparing to rebuild Cheveigne's barn. Cheveigne is a veteran of the French resistance fighting in World War II.

Tomorrow night, Friday, the Sutton branch of the Canadian Legion is holding an old time dance in the Sutton high school auditorium. All proceeds from the dance will be put into the rebuilding fund.

Reeve Bill Park, Sutton, who is chairman of the committee, said, "We hope to have a building completed in a month and a half, if the weather is with us. Morris and Clifford King have cleaned away the fire debris with their bulldozer and have also drawn gravel for the foundation."

The Kinsmen theatre night was held Wednesday last week. The N.C.O.'s Barber Shop Quartet from Toronto were featured artists along with a fashion show for 1952 with an all-male cast of Kinsmen. On the following night Marguerite Gignac, soprano, was the featured artist. The theatre nights raised $661. Contributions from the district and as far away as Buffalo and other American towns have increased the fund to $1,392.

Mr. Park said he was pleased with the donations which have come in so well. Contributions may be sent to Mr. William Park, Sutton, or F. C. Marshall, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Sutton.

MRS. SUTHERLAND, ERA - EXPRESS TO BE RADIO SUBJECTS

The Newmarket Era and Express and Mrs. J. B. Sutherland, Newmarket's oldest resident, will be the subjects of a radio broadcast on Monday, Feb. 4, at 6.15 p.m. over C.F.R.B. The sponsor of the program is the Cities Service Oil Co. Limited and the broadcast series is known as "Ontario's Patriarchs and Parents".

The program has been taking Ontario towns in turn. A history of the local newspaper and a history of the oldest resident of each town are given.

Newmarket's turn comes, appropriately enough, close to the date of the founding of the Era and Express 100 years ago, and a few days before Mrs. Sutherland celebrates her 104th birthday.

School Board Appoints Pritchard Secretary By A Technical Vote

Robert Pritchard was re-appointed secretary-treasurer of the Newmarket public school board at a special meeting held in the Prince Charles school on Friday night. The six members of the board were tied 3-3 on J. L. R. Bell's resolution for the re-appointment; Chairman Herbert Atkins cast the deciding vote in its favor.

The special meeting had been called to review applications following an advertisement for a new secretary-treasurer. At the previous meeting, the 1952 inaugural meeting, Mr. Pritchard, who has been secretary for 14 years and who was a member of the board for 13 years, said that he believed the job to be worth a larger salary.

During his absence from the meeting room, a resolution was put forth, and carried, to advertise for a new secretary. At the time, the newly installed chairman thought that he was not allowed to vote and the resolution carried 3-2.

At the last meeting, Mr. Atkinson cast his vote in favor of re-appointing Mr. Pritchard, which left a tie of 3-3. Then as chairman, he cast a deciding vote, to break the tie. By Mr. Bell's resolution, the secretary was re-appointed at a salary of $900, an increase of $150 a year.

There were nine applications before the board Friday night. Salaries requested were from $750 (Mr. Pritchard's former salary) to $875. Each member read all the letters of application.

"In my opinion, Mr. Pritchard has done an excellent job," said Mr. Bell. "He knows all about grants and department of education details. To get a new man, I think we are asking for a lot of trouble; I have a lot of confidence in him. Last year he wrote over 200 letters and sent out over 600 cheques besides other work. I wouldn't do the job for $750."

Said Mrs. Chester Best: "My first experience with the secretary was when I went before the board last year to ask for some information about non-resident pupils and he didn't have the information available. I don't think that was being a very efficient secretary. At the last meeting he was asked for some letters and he wasn't able to produce them and I don't think that was being efficient."

"What information had you been seeking?" asked Mr. Bell. "Oh, I don't remember what the details were now," Mrs. Best said.

"I am glad that all this has come out in the paper," continued Mrs. Best. "The people have heard more about school board matters than has ever been heard before."

Said Mrs. C. A. Curtis: "Why wasn't all the information put in the paper last week? There were other school board matters that went on. I know that it was aimed at me... no mention of nine cents a mile (the paper said) just that there was no mileage set."

Mrs. Curtis was referring to a motion which stated she as chairman of the property committee would be paid mileage while doing school board work, travelling between schools.

"I don't remember anything at the board meeting about nine cents a mile," said Mr. Phinister.

"All the information in the paper came from the minutes of the meeting which were given to Mr. Struthers of the Era and Express," said Chairman Herbert Atkins.

Allan Perks: "I said at the meeting I had no criticism of Bob and his work. But the thing is, there are many repercussions and implications after an action by a public board and which I had never foreseen in that motion at the time. I can't see paying anyone to start at the same salary as Bob if they haven't his experience. I wouldn't do that at my own place. And I don't know the amount of secretary's work which goes on behind the scenes. One thing we are running into is what the high school pays its secretary."

"If we are paying an attendance officer $325 and you compare the secretary's work to hers, I don't know what the secretary should be getting. I do know that most school board secretaries in Ontario," (Page 7, Col. 4)

Township Says Restrictions On Planning Are 'Arbitrary'

Planning problems which arose from development of the Woods subdivision on the outskirts of Newmarket, have brought forth comments of dissatisfaction from the Whitechurch township planning board. Board members describe restrictions by the Community Planning Board of the Department of Planning and Development as being "most arbitrary."

Whitechurch planning board problems started when the York County Health Unit made the recommendation that a home lot without water and sewers should be at least 15,000 square feet in area. The Whitechurch land restrictions by-law calls for 12,000 square feet, approved by the township planning board.

When the planning board went to the community planning board of the department, the recommendations were upheld. When Deputy-Reeve Fred Timbers reported to township council last Thursday, council members said that the health unit had no power to hold up subdivision approval since its recommendations were not law.

It was pointed out that several houses were already built on the lots and the change asked by the department would create definite hardship. The main power wielded by the department is that registered deeds of these lots cannot be obtained unless their approval of the entire plan is forthcoming.

Council felt that some of these restrictions were defeating the purpose for which the board was established. Some of the township lots were already too large, too small to require hired help and too large for one man, councillors said.

After considerable discussion it was agreed that the local provincial member should be called into consultation on the matter, and Clerk Crawford was instructed to arrange for an appointment.

Sister Of Newmarket Man Is Heroine Of 'One Foot In Heaven'

Newmarket people will be particularly interested in seeing the much talked of picture, "One Foot In Heaven", which comes to the Roxy theatre February 4, 5, 6 and 7, as it tells the life story of Mrs. Wm. Spence, sister of a Newmarket citizen, and her husband, the late Rev. Wm. Spence.

The experiences of this Ontario-born minister have been told by his son, Hartzell Spence, in the book on which the movie is based. Five books have followed the publication of this one, in fact Hartzell Spence's time is now entirely devoted to writing.

J. E. Morris, Newmarket, is a brother of Hope Morris Spence, the charming and understanding young minister's wife, who is portrayed on the screen by the popular star, Martha Scott, while Freddie March takes the part of Rev. Spence.

Mrs. Spence has been a visitor in Newmarket on more than one occasion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris on Prospect St. At present, Mrs. Spence is a house mother at the Iowa State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris visited their nephew, the young author of "One Foot In Heaven", when he lived in New York. During this past summer he bought a home in Essex, Connecticut, and from his study window Mr. and Mrs. Spence and their two children can watch the boats ply up and down the Connecticut River.

Rev. Wm. Spence, the hero of the film, was born at Newbridge, near Stratford. After he had taught school for six years, he resumed his studies and attended Stratford Collegiate Institute and later the University of Toronto. He studied medicine for awhile, later entering Victoria College, Toronto, to begin study for the ministry.

Upon completing his work, he had a chance to take a charge in Iowa, where, a short time later, he took his young bride, Hope Morris of Stratford. Together they led an interesting life in the work of the church.

There is warm comedy in the movie and it is a sympathetic and delightful story of the trials and tribulations of the life of a rural minister.

Mount Albert News

ZEPHYR

The annual Sunday school meeting was held in the United church Sunday school room last Monday evening.

Mrs. A. B. Lockie spent the weekend with Mrs. R. Harman in Mount Albert.

The W. A. meeting of the United church was held at the home of Mrs. McLachrie. The meeting was well attended and enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Parker and daughter, Peggy, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Galbraith.

The February meeting of the W.M.S. of the United church will be held at the home of Miss H. McLachrie on Thursday, Feb. 8. Note the change of date because of the Toronto East Presbyterian meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 5.

The Cheerio Group of the United church met at the home day evening with 33 ladies present. Mrs. W. Rate, the newly-elected president, presided. The ladies decided to have their annual bazaar. Mrs. Shapler and Miss B. Harmon were in charge of the program. Mrs. Geo. Price gave a book review of "A King's Story", by the Duke of Windsor. Arlene Rate played the piano.

The newly-elected members of Mount Albert Park Board are John Rye, Walter Rate, Mrs. Bruce Rolling, Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson, Beverly Sinclair, Norman Wilson and Ernest Davis.

The L.O.L. lodge will sponsor a concert in the town hall on Friday, Feb. 8, at 8.15 p.m., when Eden Y.P.U. will put on a play, "Raggy Ann".

Mr. and Mrs. V. Mitchell of Newmarket spent Sunday with Mrs. S. Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wrightman, Martha and Catherine, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steeper.

An invitation has been received from Mrs. Elton Armstrong to the Mount Albert W.I. to attend an afternoon tea and bake sale in the Newmarket W.I. rest rooms, on Friday, Feb. 8. Admission 25c.

Mrs. J. Lockie of Zephyr spent the weekend with Mrs. E. Harman.

Mr. Frank Cunningham has been confined to the house after a fall on the ice and a cut on his head.

The United church school will hold their annual supper on Friday evening, Feb. 8, when all parents are asked to come with the children and bring supplies for the supper.

The post office at Mount Albert is 100 years old in October of this year. It was first called Newlands and was in the house on the Centre Rd., just south of the village, occupied now by Greig Scott. The first postmaster was Amos Toole, 1822-1886. Robt. Hunter, 1856-1870. In 1865 the name was changed to Mount Albert; 1870-1872, Hamilton D. Hunter; 1872, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson; 1873, Andrew Cliford; 1880, John F. Jackson; 1885, Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson.

1889, Robt. Rowland; 1890, Henry Ross; 1930, Mrs. H. Ross (acting); 1941, Lyman Pearson; 1943, Mrs. L. Pearson (acting); 1944, Mrs. R. Willbee (acting); 1946, Reg. Willbee, the present postmaster.

Last year the post office was moved to the west side of the street in the Mainprize building; it had been in its former location on the east side since 1889.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Wilson will be at home to their friends on Saturday, Feb. 16, from 2-5 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 8 to 10 in the evening at their home on North St. This will be their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Geo. Walsh will be home on Feb. 7-8 to receive Blue Cross fees, so please co-operate with her so she may get them all in early.

The concert in the hall on Friday evening, sponsored by the hockey boys, was a very fine program, and those in charge deserve much credit. Too bad there was such a small attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Price of Toronto were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Price.

Mr. J. Allison attended the funeral of Mrs. Allison's nephew, Bill McMullen, in Toronto, on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Cook was taken to York County hospital on Friday for rest and treatment.

The Mount Albert W.I. is sponsoring a public speaking contest for the five public schools in the district, on Thursday, Feb. 14. The program: speakers, recitations, solos and duets, also scrap books which are to be completed by Jan. 31. Lunch will be served.

NOTICE ICE PERMITS

ETHEL WILSON TREWHELLA
*This is the thirty-fourth instalment of a continuing
"Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.*

Excitement and curiosity were at high pitch in Sharon over this marvellous event, and the villagers flocked to Newmarket, or down the side roads to gaze in wonder at the spectacle. It was the first time they had beheld a steam engine drawing a train of cars. Long afterwards, when the whistle blew at the Green Lane or at the Lundy Road, and the sound triumphantly waked the echoes of the countryside, a pause still occurred in the day's occupation in kitchen or field.

David Hughes, in his Reminiscences of Sharon, recalls the first ride which he shared with his brother, John, to Toronto about 1856. He describes the coaches as being lighter and shorter and not so elaborate as those of the present. The engine had a tall smoke stack with netting over the top to prevent sparks from flying about. Hundreds of cords of wood were stacked conveniently to fuel this black monster belching smoke and noise, and beaming fear into the watchers, by its dazzling highlight. The arrival of this new method of transportation sounded the decline of business in the village of Sharon.

Other Appointments
In February, 1855, the Canada Gazette announced that Hugh D. Willson, late township clerk, had been appointed a landing waiter and searcher in Her Majesty's customs in Toronto. W. L. MacKenzie remarked, "This is another sign that the coalition is getting ready for election. It is love's labor lost on the part of the government, as the people of this riding will oppose them to all intents and purposes."

At this time the Overseers of Highways were appointed: Israel Haines, Peter Rowen, John Reid, Edward Brammer, Abraham Doan, William Cane, John Wright, Archie McMillan. Two petitions were presented to council, one by "John Reid and 92 others, all good respectable citizens, praying for a decrease in store and license tax." The second was submitted by "Mr. Chapman, praying for assistance to open the town line between East Gwillimbury and King, as they had to cross another man's property and pay tribute."

At a meeting of council, March 14, 1856, the matter of a proposed ship canal from Lake Simcoe to Lake Ontario was discussed, and the Ridges lying between were not considered to be a great barrier. In June, council decreed that all dogs must be muzzled.

The Official Gazette announced in April, 1856, that David Willson and Hugh D. Willson were made captains, and Dr. J. Wilnot Montgomery was appointed surgeon. That year council appointed Wm. Kitley to the office of poundkeeper, and the amount due the council was 10 pounds, seven shillings and one-half pence on 15 hogs. In 1857 David Graham became tax collector, and the fenceviewers were Robert Barker, Ira Doan and Robert Weddel. Permission to do certain portions of statute labor on the Harrold hill was given to Charles Haines, John Collins, Samuel Johnson, John Eves, John Brammer, Israel Haines, Jacob Lundy and John Terry.

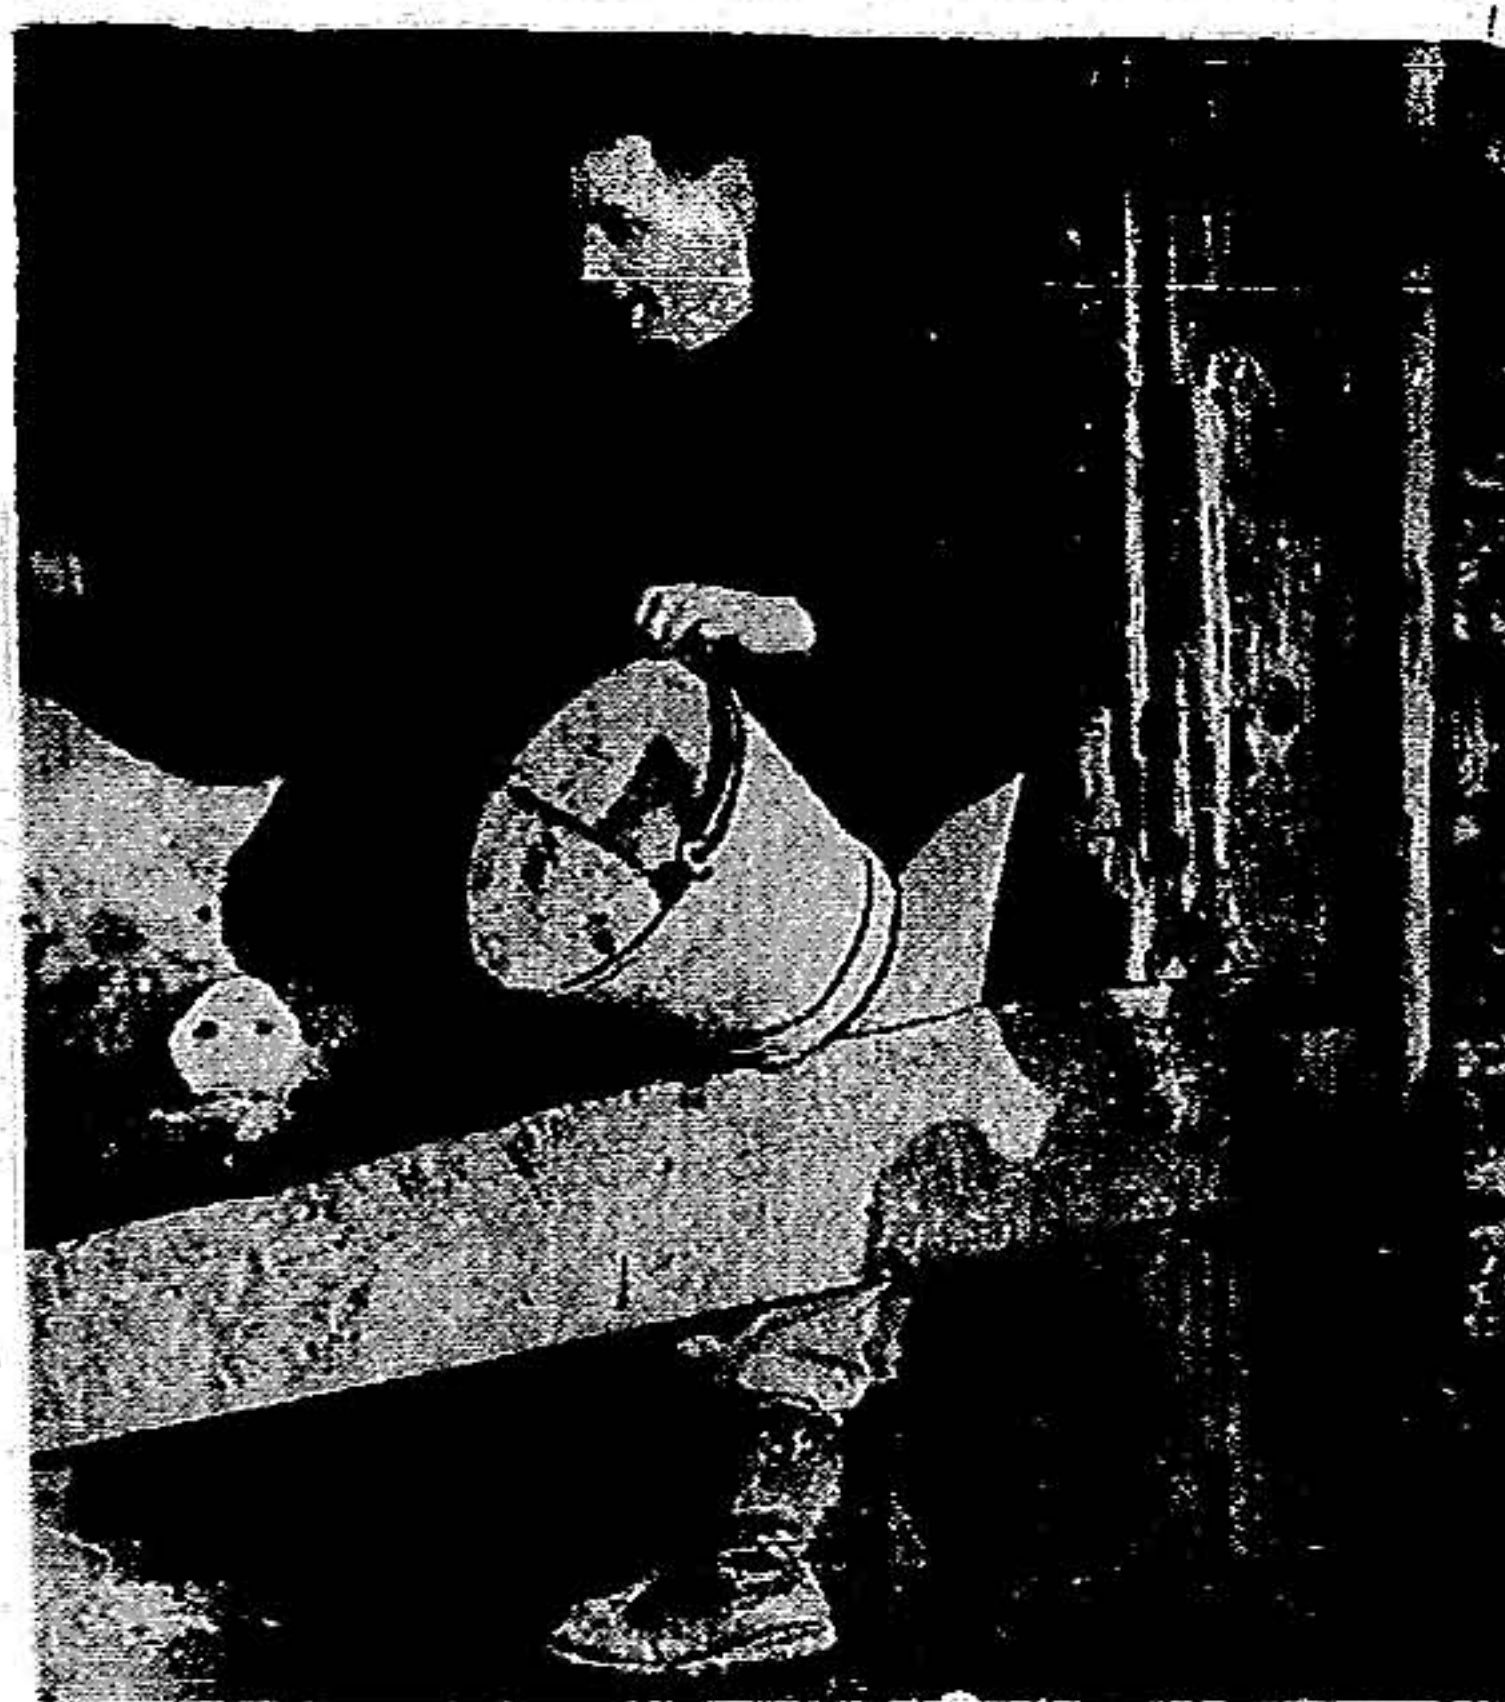

Dollars and Cents
The chartered banks of the province announced in June, 1857, that after January, 1858, their business would be conducted in dollars and cents instead of pounds, shillings and pence. William Doan, John Edmund and Job Hughes were selected to serve as jurors.

In March a petition was presented to council by William Graham and others, praying the council to pass by-law to prevent geese from running at large in the villages where statute labor was performed. Titus Willson occupied the chair. Elias Doan was appointed pathmaster in place of Thomas Selby, who had resigned. Auctioneers' licenses were fixed at one pound, 10 shillings.

From minutes published of council meetings of that day, there appears to have been no shilly-shallying on the part of Disaster struck at French immigrant farmer Maurice de Cheveigne when his barn burned at Sutton, and caused the loss of 174 out of 198 pigs. But residents of the area have formed a de Cheveigne benefit committee and have collected cash, equipment and livestock to enable him to start all over again. Here he has a smile as he feeds his new gift stock. He served with the Free French forces during the war, was a prisoner for 18 months.

a step and to state that in accepting said resignation it feels that the municipality is deprived of a thoroughly painstaking and efficient officer, and further to state that after a 31 years' term of office he has left a record of integrity and consideration for the interests of this council and the township.

This was signed by John A. Ramsden, reeve, and Amos J. Hughes, clerk.

Following the resignation of John T. Stokes, Amos J. Hughes was appointed clerk and treasurer, which office he occupied for many years in a most efficient manner. He, in turn, was succeeded by Andrew Mackenzie of Queensville. The present clerk is J. L. Smith of Queensville.

In February, 1887, Mr. William Mulock addressed a very large gathering at Sharon. During this year the first notice of the newly organized Board of Health for East Gwillimbury appeared. Robert Barker was appointed to fill the position of pathmaster, made vacant by the resignation of James Waying.

Social Interests
As had other communities in pioneer days, so had Sharon its social interests, most of which served as mutual aid as well as entertainment. There were bees: logging, raising, paring, quilting. One special interest in the village was the singing class. Amos Doan conducted a singing school in connection with the Children of Peace. This was held on Sunday afternoon. One g became the secretary. In 1853 the warden of the Counties of Peel and York had called a meeting at the Mansion House to organize an electoral division agricultural society. The officers elected were: pres., Horace Willcocks; vice-president, Job Hughes; sec., James Parnham; treasurer, George Foster. These names suggested solid backing and executive ability.

Modern inventions have not taken away from the Infantry its all-important part in victory. Again and again, in the battles of 1939-45 and in Korea, Infantry has proved itself — "Queen of Battles". The job of the Infantryman has become tougher, more complex. He must be able to handle more weapons and to meet a greater variety of situations in defence and attack.

To attain the specialist rank of Leading Infantryman and the extra pay that goes with it, calls for intensive training in many varied subjects. For the Canadian Infantry Soldier is one of the most thoroughly trained men in our army. He ranks with the finest fighting men in the world.

More men are needed right away to serve with the Infantry — the most important men in the Canadian Army.

It was with deep regret that we learned of the sudden passing of young Doug Hutchins. We had met him first when he came to the shop during the summer months to see if there was an odd job or two that he could do. He worked off and on for us during the summer months and in the fall developed his own paper route.

He was a fine boy; and he earned the respect and liking of the staff at the Era and Express with his willingness and attention. We all felt we had lost a friend when we learned of his sudden passing last Thursday.

One last job Doug did for us, a voluntary job. He brought in a copy of the Scout Journal of which he was editor. It was hand printed and brought up to date the activities of the Boy Scouts in town. We wish we had been in when he brought in the copy, to congratulate him on a fine job.

Referring back to our recent comments about the way city farmers invade the country, with loaded shotguns at port, triggers cocked, and suffering from color blindness and a general inability to distinguish between a Holstein heifer and a jack rabbit.

We had a talk with a White-church farmer the other day. He was telling us of a reporter down at a Federation meeting who was quite upset when he heard the farmers turn their thumbs down on city hunters. "Unfair," he cries.

"Well," says our friend, "I talked to him and educated him somewhat and he decided there were two sides to every story."

But we were on the subject of the vagaries of the city folk and we stayed on it because of the endless list of stories about city folk in the country. He told us about a city man who had married into his family and who was a great one for the outdoors.

"Nothing like the wide open spaces," he'd say, and hop a rail fence and lay out a picnic in some farmer's apple orchard. No one would object to that but he always left his garbage around and sooner or later, the farm dog would be bringing home an ancient fish head or getting sick on the rich food left by city folks.

He was still admiring the wide open spaces (and cluttering up said spaces with his garbage), says our friend, when he married into the family. So for a wedding present, he says, "we told him he could pitch a tent or build a shack down in the bush beside the creek and he could have all the wide open spaces he wanted."

"Mind you," says our friend, "we were just loaning him the land because he liked those wide open spaces."

Well sir, he'd no sooner settled in when he began acting like the squire. He used to get mad as hops when some farmer ordered him out of his orchard but now that he was on some land which he called his own (even if it did belong to us, says our friend) he did the same thing only worse.

If he saw anyone within a half mile, he'd come charging out and order them off the property as if he owned the entire concession himself. Which goes to show, we agreed, that city folks are mostly suppressed land owners.

Some years ago, we have the recollection of a glowing article in a magazine which forecast the millennium on the day that some way was found to extract chlorophyll, the stuff that makes the greenness in plants. It was contended in this article that once chlorophyll was isolated, the secret of life would be open for all to examine.

We have carried this thought around for sometime and patiently waited for the announcement that chlorophyll had indeed been isolated and that the secret of life was laid bare. It was somewhat disappointing, then, to hear over the radio that thanks to chlorophyll, there were now deodorizers on the market that ended all personal odors. That did not, it seemed to us, appear to be life's secret.

Hon. Vincent Massey, in his address before the Canadian Club in Toronto on Monday, seems to think there is an important work for him to do at Washington, and the creation of the office has the approval of the British government.

Mr. Lyman Rose attended the furniture fair in Kitchener last week.

The sixth annual birthday banquet of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society was held in the Sunday school rooms of the Christian church on Wednesday evening, Jan. 19, and was better than ever. Seventy-two were present. The room and tables were decorated in green and white.

During the whole school year of 1926 there were 29 pupils attending the public schools in Newmarket who were neither late nor absent at any session.

Over 200 new books were added to the Newmarket Public Library last year. The library is free to our citizens, but there is not as much use made of it as there should be, especially during the long winter evenings.

Hope: Lots of snow these days which has put most of the cars off the road. Those that are running leave a very snake-like trail a good bit of the way, and they get balky sometimes.

JANUARY 31, 1902

From an article by Mr. E. Jackson: "Half a century ago this week under the editorial management of Mr. G. S. Porter as printer and publisher, the first number of the 'Newmarket Era', then called the 'New Era', made its appearance."

Four hats were exchanged at the meetings on Sunday last. Several persons had bad falls on the slippery sidewalks this week.

Mount Albert: Preparations for the old folks' concert are going on energetically.

Horticultural Society: It was decided to hold the next Flower Show on July 22 and 23, in the Newmarket skating rink.

Aurora: A grand Scotch concert will be held in the Mechanics' Hall, Aurora.

Baldwin: We read in daily papers of Montana and Colorado cyclones, Dakota and Manitoba blizzards, the terrific cold waves on the steppes of Russia and the avalanches of Switzerland, but for a real good old-fashioned snow storm "the land of the maple" takes premier position yet.

North Gwillimbury: The ice on the Bay is in good condition and its surface as usual dotted with fish-houses. Herrings are being caught in considerable quantities.

Zephyr: the sawlogs are beginning to team into the mill yards.

TOWARDS BETTER RELATIONS

The country folk have a large stake in Newmarket and Newmarket has a large stake in the country folk. Neither town nor country could exist without the other. But while the parties of first and second part generally recognize their dependence upon each other, it is not always a happy partnership. As in most families, there is a certain amount of friction; unlike most families, the means to smooth those frictions are not generally employed and they continue to irritate what might otherwise be a smooth working team.

In most families, the petty annoyances which are bound to crop up are talked over and, with a little compromise here and adjustment there, are ironed out. But despite the fact that town and country do business with each other day in and day out, there doesn't seem to be much exchange between them. The Lions club, and other town organizations, have annual farmers' nights to which members bring a farm guest, but such occasions do not encourage the kind of plain talk necessary to settle points of view. The farmer as a guest can hardly criticize his host; the host can hardly criticize his guest.

What is needed is for farm groups to invite town officials to gatherings with the avowed purpose of talking over some of the definite issues which lie between town and country and for town organizations to invite farm representatives for the same purpose. Hospitality then would be no bar to plain speaking. In the country, there are ready means for such discussions in the forums and the federations. In the town, the council, manufacturers' and businessmen's organizations would serve.

We believe that if both parties were to speak bluntly about such matters as parking meters, store hours, and the host of other petty irritations that disturb good relations, those irritations could be removed and a greater understanding of respective viewpoints reached.

KEEPING UP YORK HOSPITALS

York County Hospital has asked the county council to grant it $60,000, payable over two years, for improved kitchen facilities, but the council committee is not too enthusiastic. As reported last week, the committee is recommending only half that amount. The committee's chairman, Reeve Stewart Robertson of Forest Hill, told the council that since 1914, the county had contributed $825,000 in capital grants to the 12 hospitals in the county and city. Reeve Thomas Carter of Long Branch said the committee was not "against hospitalization but concerned with the budget."

We can appreciate the concern of any law maker with the budget these days, but any law maker who tries to hold down the budget at the expense of essential services is performing a doubtful duty to the taxpayer. The cost of municipal operation, just like any other service or commodity, has risen. On top of that, taxpayers are demanding more extensive municipal services. It's up to the municipality to provide them even if the budget takes a beating in the process. The few dollars saved now in the name of holding the barrier against tax increases, will have to be spent many times over in the future.

The county council has given large sums of money to the hospitals in the city. And that is only fair because the major hospitals in Toronto serve not just the city but also York County. But the total of these contributions in the past should not be permitted to blind the council to the fact that they were, and are still, needed; nor should the demands of the city hospitals, including the Toronto General Hospital building fund, be permitted to obscure the needs of the hospitals outside the city.

Quite apart from the services they daily perform, outside hospitals have a major role to perform in the organization of civil defence, a point well made by Reeve Arthur Evans of Newmarket. Commenting in the same issue of the paper on the progress of civil defence organization, he said: possible destruction of the downtown area of Toronto by bombing would also include hospitals located in the centre of the city, a fact which is a sound argument for smaller hospitals outside the city and, we should imagine, continued support for the expansion of existing hospitals.

NEW INDUSTRIES

In Newmarket and Aurora, lay-offs in leather and appliance industries have sparked afresh talk of the need for new industries. Without a doubt, new plants opening in this area would take up the slack of unemployment, but new industries are not as easily come by as many think and at times, represent an expensive investment over the years.

An industry planning to relocate in a small town is actually on a buyer's market. Not just Newmarket and Aurora want new industries; every municipality is in the hunt. And the competition is keen. An awareness of the advantages of this competition was shown recently when both towns and, we wager, a good many other municipalities, received a letter from a large manufacturing firm saying that it was seeking a new location, detailing its requirements and asking what tax and other concessions would the municipalities grant.

That last request was the tail of the scorpion. The firm's list of physical requirements such as floor space, water consumption, etc., was fair enough, but the request about concessions set hopeful municipalities to bidding against each other and the firm got the benefit. Without a doubt, an industry is sufficiently valuable to a municipality to warrant some consideration; but there is a limit to which a municipality can afford to subsidize industry. The difficulty is that many of those so enthusiastically seeking new industry do not know where to draw the line.

There are other considerations to be met as well. Locating an industry is a custom job. All manner of requirements must be satisfied, from the kind of water and its availability, to a sure source of labor. No industry is going to invest the cost of its plant unless it is absolutely certain that the ideal location has been found. In point of fact, Newmarket is running short of ideal locations. At the present time, our industrial sites are limited. Here again, there is the danger that in "making do" for a prospective industry, the town may sacrifice advantages better kept.

We think that both Newmarket and Aurora are likely prospects for industrial expansion, if not now, then in the not too distant future. Lay-offs have accelerated the demand for new industry. Newmarket has appointed a good man to chair the industrial committee in the person of Charles Boyd but the danger remains that public pressure for industry may force concessions which might later be regretted.

WORD FROM THE CONSUMER

Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr., president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, recently gave the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association the benefit of the consumer's viewpoint towards methods of grading produce. She said:

"Only a group of intelligent men could have thought up such a complicated system of grading as far as names or terms are concerned for most agricultural products. For instance, for meat we have Red and Blue, Commercial, and Cutter Grades; for butter, we have First, Second and Third; for eggs, we have A, B and C; for canned fruit and vegetables, we have Fancy, Choice, Standard; and then the fruit and vegetable growers outdo them all."

Mrs. Walton continued, "The meaning of the names given to indicate grades is something definitely not understood by the average consumer. 'Fancy' grade—that is easy. It should be the 'extra special' the very top quality. What, then, is No. 1 and No. 2? Most people don't know whether it applies to size or quality? What does 'Domestic' mean? Has 'combination' anything to do with winter underwear? What is 'select', 'fancy and C'? The trade knows. The grower knows. But the most important group—the purchaser—is for the most part completely in the dark. Hasn't the time come when a little research and uniform standardization of names for grading should be undertaken in aid of the confused consumer for a share of whose dollar everyone is competing?"

We think that most producers will agree with Mrs. Walton that the grading system needs a thorough overhaul. But such agreement is a long way from action, particularly when the attitude of some growers represents such a large obstacle to its accomplishment. These growers seem to believe that any practice is a fair practice as long as it moves their produce and if the confusion of grading works to their advantage, they'll be loathe to change it. It's up to the growers themselves to police their membership if the consumer is to have confidence in what he buys.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Our London correspondent reports this week on an interview with Sir Raleigh Sumpin, new high commissioner who will replace the late Viscount Duncan Doan-Nurtis in the wild Malayan jungles.

London circles, our correspondent writes, are highly pleased with the new appointment, since Sir Raleigh, an ex-army brass hat, elephant hunter, sportsman and famed entomologist, is an expert on jungle lore as well as the Asiatic rope trick and he gets along well with folks.

One of the world trouble spots where the guerillas are secretly believed to be communists, Malaya has been one of the flagging pearls of Empire.

Viscount Duncan Doan-Nurtis was a good chap and all that but after he was unfortunately felled by a native blow dartist, London circles breathed easily, writes our correspondent, Cronan Braggan, because the situation so presented itself to facilitate the appointment of a go-getter.

The following is our correspondent's account of the interview:

"Are you a student of the far east, Sir Raleigh?" asked our correspondent.

"Rawther. I learned the rope trick from my roommate, a Hindu, at Oxford. I have been an omnivorous reader of far eastern writers, particularly Milton Caniff. I keep up to date with Terry and the Pirates to get the American viewpoint as well."

"I suppose you were brought up in the far east. Father likely a government man, eh?"

"No, I have never been to the east but I once hypnotized a python and went on a 12-day fast. You learn a lot about the east that way. Actually, I was brought up in Birmingham. Steel people, you know."

"As Malayan high commissioner, do you expect much, oh, you know what I mean?"

"Oh, do you mean...?"

"Yes."

"Well, one must always be on guard for that sort of thing, you know, you never know, that is..."

"I know exactly. Pity."

"They will get in somehow and make things, you know..."

"Yes, and it's the method, so entirely un-, well, we all know."

"Yes, we know only too well. Can't foresee all the ramifications in such things facing the future of civilization. We are upon an era of great destiny, the turning point of it all."

"Exactly, turning point of it all. How very right you are; that's putting the finger on it."

"Yes, that's the finger right on it, certainly is. That pretty well sums up your attitude, doesn't it, Sir Raleigh. That's it in a nutshell."

"Yes, a nutshell. I like nuts awfully, too."

"It's a pleasure to have this interview, Sir Raleigh. It's not many government sources that can co-operate and put his cards on the table like you. You are a real go-getter, Sir."

"Honored. By the way, is it the Times?"

"No, Era 'n' Express. Over there, you know."

"Oh, of course."

Our London correspondent adds that the position of Malaya is now looked upon in an entirely different light. Foreign office officials are reported to have breathed deeply and a relaxed calm has settled over the office, unconfirmed, of course.

London expects forthright methods in Malaya from now on to bring order out of chaos in the Malayan jungles, a much sought after order.

Colonial Secretary Oliver Under expressed confidence in the appointment this week, saying that he sincerely believed that a firm appointment had been made.

There has also been a new outlook in tin.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

This is the season for "The Meetings", an annual affliction like spring fever or winter colds. Come to think of it, winter colds and meetings have a lot in common. Haven't attended one yet that wasn't too warm for the number of people attending it or one that hasn't had more cigar smoke than air in the room.

However, before we keep on telling you what is wrong with meetings, let us tell you that we think they are contributing a great deal to the success of farming and raising of livestock. We think that they are the most important factor in disseminating information and spreading ideas. They are also the best place we know of for meeting people we haven't seen in years and people who live many miles away, find out how many children they have and also what news they have heard of people who are mutual acquaintances.

But as far as meetings go, they are lacking a great deal. We think that people who are in charge of these meetings haven't learned nearly as fast as the number of people attending them increased. Take one of our own local meetings. The largest crowd ever to attend a meeting in this locality was present. The men in charge of it had it organized well, people moved from one place to the other easily. Everything went very well except that when it came to the business session, the president in charge didn't know procedure and there sat 350 men, all good and true, and watched as something quite unreasonable was perpetrated on them.

They also sat through a panel discussion which was badly prepared and left a false impression of the subject for those who didn't know about it beforehand. And then they listened to two more speakers, one of whom was too technical on a subject that is minor at the best, and the other who used the ministerial approach of persuasion and got lost in general platitudes.

Now we are saying all this because we feel that while the problem years ago was to bring people out, today it is to hold their interest once they do come out. Secondly, because we feel that the problem is general. The annual breed meetings will have the same problems and the same pitfalls.

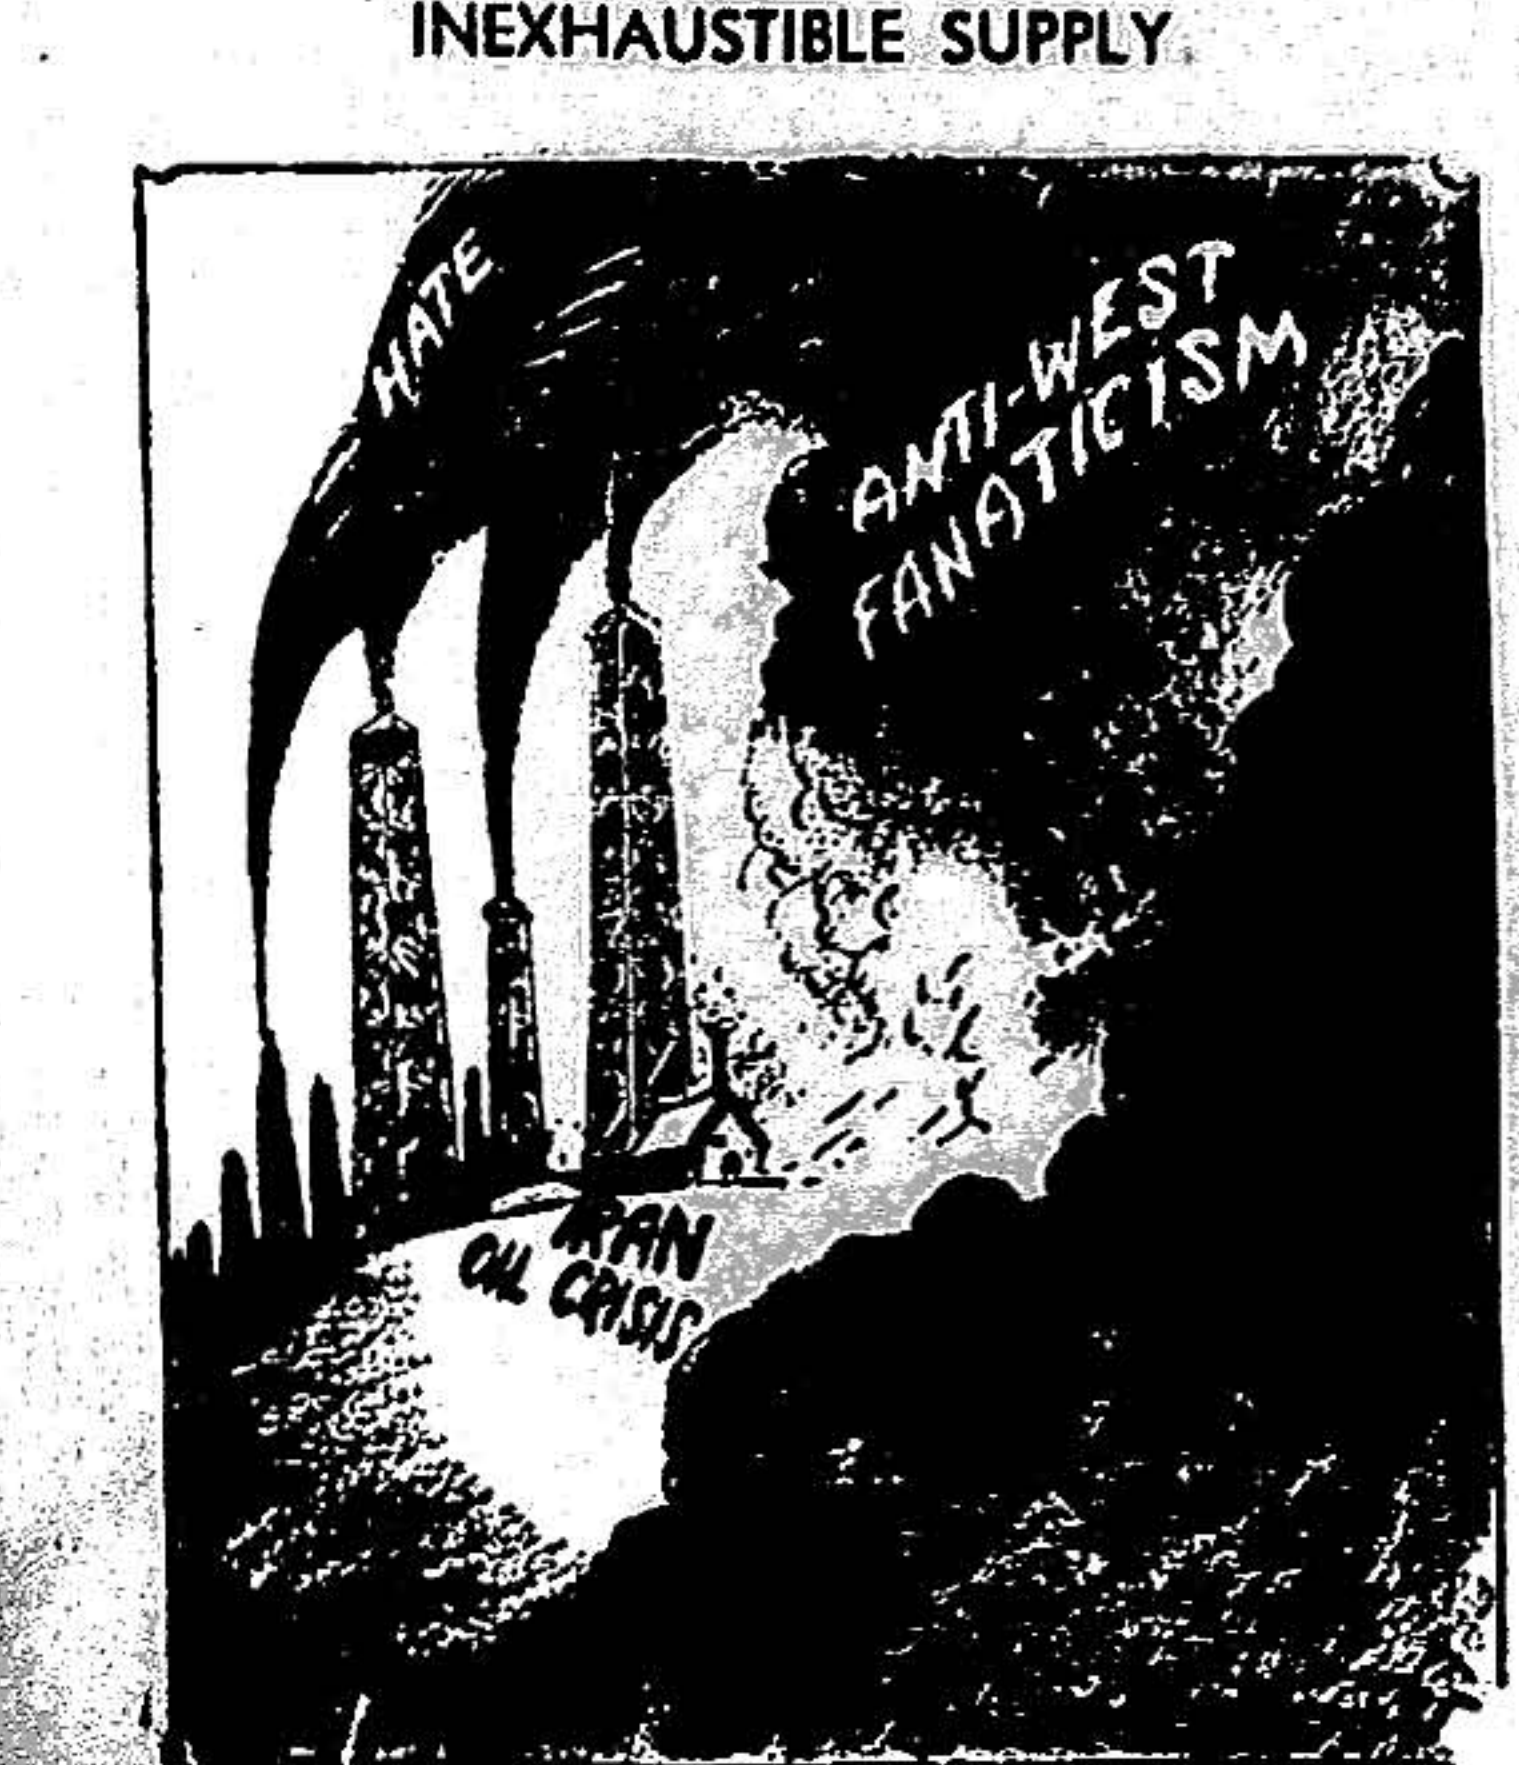

Let's face the fact that in public life, there are few people who can get up and give an interesting talk, brief, to the point and informative. There are fewer brilliant speakers and you could count on one hand the number who could address the meeting of the type referred to and have something to say and say it interestingly. Again we repeat, that is not the fault of those who organize the meetings. They cannot find speakers when there aren't any.

In closing, may we suggest largest crowd ever to attend a meeting. Let the department establish a slate of speakers who could address meetings. Let them be men who are not only familiar with their subject, but also fluent and good speakers. Furthermore, give these people time to prepare speeches.

Let the department or some association on a provincial and local level, organize meetings where the executives of the different county groups will learn methods of conducting meetings.

And finally let us admit that we have as good a meeting when it comes to business sessions as we deserve. In the end, it will depend on all of us and the interest we take in the affairs of our own group, how successful an organization is.

The Editor: I would like to say that I enjoyed that fortnight correspondence on "Retail Price Fixing" in your Jan. 17 issue, in which the secretary of Whitechurch Federation of Agriculture asks a few pointed questions on the relationship between the primary producers and the Canadians at work in the secondary and manufacturing industries.

The following is a particularly keen example: "The manufacturer buys his raw products on a competitive market, and expects the right to sell on a controlled market. . . . Why should these small farm businesses" (i.e., the average farmer) "have to sell on an open and competitive market, when they must buy on a closed or controlled market?" (Ross Armitage).

That is "some" question, Mr. Editor! It reminded this reader of the action of automobile manufacturers in Canada when, a year or two ago, large numbers of small British-made cars began to roll into this market in large numbers. You know what action was taken and just how speedily the lads on Parliament Hill found a way to reduce the inflow.

Urban people are outraged at the suggestion that a little of their own favorite medicinal elixir (the protective tariff tonic) should be administered to the 72,000,000 lbs. of foreign vegetable oils upon which last year's 101,000,000 pounds of margarine got built. What's good for the urban goose should, surely, occasionally be beneficial to the rural gander?

MOUNT ZION

The Y. P. service on Friday evening was well attended. The topic on church history was interesting.

Mrs. Harry Elliott, Belhaven, visited her mother, Mrs. J. B. Clark, on Friday.

The W.M.S. will hold their next meeting at Mrs. Fred King's home on Tuesday, Feb. 5, in the afternoon. There is to be a quilting and sewing.

Mrs. Gordon Coates, Holt, has been staying with her mother, Mrs. John Kellington, this last week. Mrs. Kellington seems to be getting a little stronger.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sweet and family had Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curl.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Norris and Mr. and Mrs. Fred King visited Mr. and Mrs. Oliver King, Miami, on Sunday. Mr. Oliver King expects to go into the Toronto General Hospital very soon for an operation on his foot. We all wish Mr. King a most successful operation.

Sunday services are: Sunday school at 10 a.m.; worship at 11 a.m. There was another increase in the Sunday school attendance, with the blues still leading.

Mrs. Bruce Longfield had a very bad scare last Thursday night when her stovepipes caught on fire. However, help arrived on time and there was no serious damage.

Mount Zion school presented several of their Christmas plays at Mount Albert on Friday night. There was a competition with several schools taking part. Miss Ida Bertolin won one of the door prizes.

ELMHURST BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sedore have motored to Florida, where they will spend a few weeks. Dianne Maw is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Selby Sedore.

POTTAGEVILLE

Fire completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sampson on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 26. Schomberg fire department was called, but was unable to save the house.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Leland Patton fell from the mow on Friday, Jan. 25. She received a badly broken arm and several other bruises. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken West, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Marsden, Hamilton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George West.

MOUNT PISGAH

The croquignole party sponsored by the Mount Pisgah Sunday school is to be held at S. S. No. 6 instead of in the church as previously planned. Please note this change of place.

Mr. R. C. Baycroft underwent a major operation at York County hospital on Monday morning of this week and is getting along as well as can be expected. His friends all wish for him a quick recovery.

Mrs. Harry Smith spent the weekend in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Barker and family.

Mrs. Riddiford of Port Carling is visiting Mrs. Howden.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Power, Maple, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim MacDonald and family on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Botham is visiting the Baycrofts for a few days. Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Price are visiting relatives in Hamilton for a few days.

Numbers 6 and 7, Home and School association, held its regular meeting at S. S. No. 6 last Friday evening. Dr. Rose of Aurora gave a very interesting talk on citizenship.

The annual Home and School rummage sale will be held in March. All are asked to see what can be donated. Let's make this sale another success. Watch for further particulars.

BELHAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. W. Holstocks, Jackson's Point, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman King and Floyd visited her aunt, Mrs. McMaster, and her father, Mr. Phillips of Greenbank on Sunday.

The February meeting of Belhaven Institute will be held in Belhaven hall on Tuesday, Feb. 5. (Note change of date.) Roll call will be "facts on a new product of interest to women." Convenor is Mrs. Ross Mainprize. Topic is "Agriculture and Canadian Industries." Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ross Armitage, Pine Orchard, representative of the Federation of Agriculture.

Refreshment committee is Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Norman King and Mrs. Selby Fairbairn. Ladies, don't forget your article for the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooper, Toronto, spent Sunday with Mrs. Cooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mainprize.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Cronsberry, Sutton West, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holstocks visited Mr. and Mrs. John Spence on Monday.

Mr. Ed. McAlpine spent Sunday with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson.

MIAMI BEACH

Old man winter is sure showing his colors with temperatures below zero.

Mrs. Ida Miller is in Toronto at the present with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Beckett, and expects to go to Florida on Feb. 2.

Mr. Oliver King has returned home from Malton hospital and awaiting a call to the Toronto General hospital. He is going to have an operation on his foot. Many people of this district are sick with the flu and bronchitis.

The people of this district are glad to hear that Mrs. Jim Little is improving at home after her serious stomach operation in the Western hospital.

We are all very sorry to hear that Mrs. Marsh has had a heart attack and had to be taken to the hospital. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Oliver King is sick with the flu and bronchitis.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver King were Mr. Chester Miller, Gloria and Joe of Mount Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. James Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred King of Mt. Zion, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Vine, baby Grant and Lillian Holstock of Baldwin.

Mr. Gordon Leslie and his mother spent Monday in Toronto.

START O.P.P. OFFICE

Work is proceeding on the renovation of the former Newmarket municipal office at 55 Main St. where the District Provincial Police office will be located. Contract for the renovation was awarded to Ward and Allan Co., Newmarket. According to J. O. Dales, town council property committee chairman, total cost will be $6,383.34 excluding heating and decorating.

Oak Ridges News

Critical Brain Operation

A delicate brain operation has been performed on Harold Cook, 36, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cook of Oak Ridges, by Dr. Pratt at East Toronto General Hospital last weekend. Mr. Cook and his wife live on O'Connor Dr., Toronto. As the copy goes to press, Harold is "holding his own". A large tumour was removed on Sunday, following surgery on Saturday to lessen the pressure on the patient's brain. He fell into a state of coma before removal to hospital on Saturday morning, and up until Tuesday is reported in the same condition.

Harold's vision became seriously impaired during the past month but it was not until surgery was performed that his condition was found so critical. He was forced to give up his position with the Soules Building firm because of poor eyesight. Harold had helped his father in building Lake Wilcox school last summer.

Mrs. Wm. Ashby of Lake Wilcox and her young daughter, Deborah, are staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cook, during the period of crisis. Judith Ashby is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Isobel Ashby of Toronto, trying to recover from a heavy cold. She will remain in the city as long as her mother is needed at the D. E. Cook home.

Young Singer Teaches Music

Miss Anne Stephenson, a pupil of Dr. Ernesto Vinci, Toronto Conservatory of Music, is teaching music at public schools in Linton, Pottageville, Snowball, Kettleby and Amsterdam in King township. Hope school in Vaughan township and S. S. 7 in Whitechurch. Miss Stephenson has had offers of other schools as well, and this week one came from a school near Unionville.

In February, Anne will try two examinations at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, one grade 9 voice and the other a counterpoint test. She is working toward her A.R.C.M. degree. Also in February, Anne will compete in the German leader special class at the Kiwanis festival and in one of the other specials. Mr. Clayton Rose of Aurora will be her accompanist in the leader competition.

Seek Action Toward Public Health Unit Plan

The large attendance of Home and School members who heard an address by Dr. Robert King, director of York County Health Unit, at a meeting of the association this month, was an indication of interest being shown in the work and benefits of a public health service. The association endorsed a resolution favoring King and Whitechurch townships entering the county unit.

Through the generosity of Oak Ridges school board, no rental is required for use of a class room.

However, they suggested that no person under 19 years of age be enrolled. More than half of the membership are married couples in their early thirties. There are several who are beyond the half century age group.

Keswick, Ravenshoe Charges Annual Report

The annual congregational meetings of Keswick charge of the United Church were held in Keswick and Ravenshoe on January 14 and 16. After delicious suppers served by W.A. ladies each congregation met to hear reports from the various organizations.

The total givings for the Charge was $7,498. for the year plus W.M.S. sales valued at over $400. The response to the Missionary and Maintenance fund showed a 10% increase over last year. The total missionary givings suggests a growing interest in the outreach of the church at home and overseas.

Because of increase in families in this area Sunday schools are growing. There are now four nursery teachers in Keswick and an increase in attendance.

Mr. Joel Hopkins is the new superintendent, taking the place of Mr. Perry Winch, Sr., who, after five years of splendid leadership, resigned owing to ill health. Mr. Merton Rutledge continues as superintendent in Ravenshoe.

The W.M.S. presidents are Mrs. F. F. Marritt, Mrs. Ken Boothby and Mrs. Wm. King. All allocations have been met by these auxiliaries. Miss Eva Gilroy has been chosen W.A. president succeeding Mrs. F. Morton who for four years has given untiring service in Keswick. Mrs. Stanley Armstrong continues in Ravenshoe and the association there has had a year of fruitful activity.

The report of the Sessions showed 19 baptisms, nine weddings and 12 funerals during the year. There is a total membership (resident and non-resident) of 321. Received on confession eight and by letter 14, removed by letter 11 and by death six.

Mr. Percy Bouks was the new elder elected for Keswick. He moved here from Montreal where he had served as an elder for 30 years and as Clerk of Session for 15. Mr. Clarke Martin was elected to the Committee of Stewards. All other officials remained the same as last year in both congregations.

During the year a canvass was made for the Organ Fund. An indebtedness of $1,100 was reduced to $520. This is the only debt on the charge and the W.A. expects to pay it off this year.

A motion of appreciation was moved by Mr. F. F. Marritt on behalf of the congregation for the work of Rev. and Mrs. Campbell Thompson.

These two townships in which Union S. S. No. 1 is situated, along with East Gwillimbury, are the only municipalities of North York that are not members of the County health plan. The association feels that the benefits given by the unit exceed those presently given by the townships.

Describing the work of a health unit, Dr. King pointed out that public health service is not a form of charity for a few needy persons. It is a means of preventing illness throughout the community by programs of inoculation, enforcement of quarantine, sanitary inspections and promotion of education for everyone on many health subjects.

The service has a well trained staff. The cost to the taxpayer is low in comparison to the broad program that the health unit provides. A taxpayer with an assessment of $1,000 pays not more than $1.00 per year, while the same taxpayer is already handing out about 30 cents for existing health services given by the municipality. To engage a health nurse for Oak Ridges school section, ratepayers would pay $500 or more per year. When the Health Unit is acquired one mill on equalized assessment of the municipality is levied.

Membership in a County Public Health Unit is voluntary. Any town or townships wishing to join must have the approval of the municipal council.

Realizing that "health for her family is the first responsibility of every parent", the health committee of the local Home and School will continue to stimulate action on this matter, a member of the committee stated.

Realizing that "health for her family is the first responsibility of every parent", the health committee of the local Home and School will continue to stimulate action on this matter, a member of the committee stated.

Farm Forum

News

Last Monday, Jan. 28, was the monthly "Review Night", when groups met for a social evening to go over the topics of the last three forums. Many secretaries, therefore, have not been able to send in the regular report this week, but we hope to receive many reports next week, February 4, when the topic for discussion will be: "What Sets Farm Prices?"

Kettleby North End forum was entertained by Newmarket East at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor. Mrs. M. Cook of the Kettleby group moved a vote of thanks to the hostess. Next meeting of Kettleby North End will be at the home of Frank Beatty on February 4.

Fine Orchard forum will meet at the Fine Orchard school on Monday night, Feb. 4, at 8.15 p.m. The discussion should be of vital importance to the farming industry, and it is hoped, the secretary writes, that there will be a good attendance.

Holt farm forum sent in a report which reached this office too late for last week, of their discussion on January 21 of the subject, "What's Wrong with our Farm Organizations?" Place of meeting was at the home of Mr. Walter Rate, who also led the discussion. Ten members were present. They advocate more participation by the individual farmer in the present "set-up" of farm organizations. The group thinks that "the farm co-ops and commodity groups should support the Federation of Agriculture, but, better still, all groups should consolidate to form one bargaining body."

This group will visit the Newmarket Co-op's hatchery and mills on February 7.

Please send in reports as soon as possible next week, as reports received too late have to be held over until the following week.

IN MEMORIAM

BLANCHARD—In loving memory of my son, George Blanchard, who passed away Jan. 31, 1946.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.

The world's weary troubles and trials are past;

In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,

Till God called him home to suffer no more.

One by one they go before us,

They are fading like the dew;

But we know they're watching over us.

Yes, the good, the fair, the true.

Ever will be remembered by his mother. Verses written by his mother and not forgotten by his brothers, nor all his dear old friends.

BLANCHARD—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Blanchard, who passed away Jan. 31, 1946.

The rolling stream of life rolls on,

But still the vacant chair;

Recalls the love, the voice, the smile.

Of the one that once sat there.

Ever remembered by his wife and daughter Helen.

GAMBLE—In loving memory of a dear mother, Ada Gamble, who passed away Feb. 1, 1949.

Sleep on, dear good mother, it has been long years,

Since you left our hearts filled with sadness and tears;

LEGION SPONSORS ESSAY CONTESTS FOR THIRD YEAR

The Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion once again is sponsoring an essay contest in conjunction with Education Week, March 2 to 8. The Legion has sponsored the contest for the past two years. Closing date for entries this year is February 25.

There will be two groupings for elementary school children with two subjects, New Canadians In Our School and Royal Tour, What It Means To Me. Secondary schools will also have two groupings with topics on the Royal Tour and Canada, Melting Pot For Citizenship. Chief judge will be John A. Meyer; Harold Eaton, representing the Legion and others will also be judges.

The Legion will give prizes for the three top selections in each group. Selections will be made for the Legion District and Provincial Command contests. A Newmarket boy, Allan Jackson, won the provincial prize last year.

School principals will receive contest data for school bulletin boards this week.

HILLCREST BUSINESS CHANGEST HANDS

Hillcrest Service Station on Yonge St. at the top of the Holland Landing hill has been purchased by Ernest A. Luff and his son-in-law, Roy Rumble, Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Motink, who have had the business the past few years, have moved to St. Catharines and plan to leave shortly for an extended vacation.

Before their departure, they were guests at a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rupke. The party was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Motink. They were presented with two travelling bags.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Motink thanked all those who had helped make their residence here so pleasant.

child; sick children are referred to the family physician.

The Newmarket Centre has been open since last spring. The Centre is free of charge to parents and has proved of special value in giving advice on nutrition and feeding problems. Other Centres in the district are located at Keswick, on the fourth Thursday of the month; at Sutton on the third Tuesday and a new Centre in Aurora on the third Thursday of the month in the Lions Hall. As other municipalities arrange for centres, the service will become more widely available.

SERVICE NOT WORTH COST—EAST. GWILL.

Last Thursday East Gwillimbury Federation of Agriculture sponsored a public meeting to study the merits of the public health unit.

Dr. R. M. King of the York County Health Unit was guest speaker. At the conclusion of Dr. King's address, there was a lively discussion.

The general opinion as a result of numerous questions answered by Dr. King was that the expense is too great for the few extra benefits the township would receive.

It was also pointed out that the greatest expense would fall on the farm population who would have to pay 70% of the total cost. This would amount to at least one mill on the total assessment, which would cost the township between $2,000 and $3,000.

ST. ANDREW'S HAS ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, was held in the church room on Monday night, Jan. 28 with a good representation present. Rev. Dr. W. Orr Mulligan, who served as interim moderator until Rev. F. H. Meredith was inducted as minister, presided at the meeting.

All organization activities showed favorable progress for the year. The Women's Association reported total receipts for the year of $2,440, and total general contributions amounted to $7,700. In addition, donations to the Organ fund to date were $1,634.25. Expenditures to the church and manse were listed at $1,895.30; apart from the church organ, and $370 went to missions.

Mr. W. D. Dunston was elected to the board of managers and Norman L. Rogers was appointed church treasurer.

Donald Davidson, Lawrence Wright, Sid Legge and Wm. O. McIntyre were re-elected to the board of management for a three-year period. Dalton Faris was re-elected to the board of trustees.

Rev. Meredith moved a vote of thanks to Rev. Dr. W. O. Mulligan for his considerate attention to St. Andrew's church during the period he served in the capacity of interim moderator.

In his reply Dr. Mulligan paid tribute to the genial spirit of co-operation which prevailed within St. Andrew's church, Newmarket.

SCHOOL BOARD

tario are receiving increases," said Mr. Bell.

Chairman Atkins: "The board can change every year and the school work can go on smoothly but if a secretary leaves, it causes quite an upset; you can find a similar situation in most any organization."

Mr. Bell: "Candidly, I'm all for getting him back but I don't know whether he'd even consider it." After passing his resolution, Mr. Bell continued, "If the applicants are worth the money they are asking, Mr. Pritchard is worth a lot more, with his experience."

Allen Perks: "Maybe one or two of these applicants should be considered at a lower salary, in all fairness to them."

Larry Bell: "They are stating their salaries; I don't know why they would accept anything lower."

Mrs. Curtis: "I think we should give some of these applicants a chance. They have experience that would enable them to do the job. It's insulting to pass these up when Mr. Pritchard hasn't even applied. I don't know how you can consider Mr. Pritchard."

Chairman Atkins: "If you were fired, would you apply again?"

Mrs. Curtis: "He wasn't fired."

Allen Perks: "It's rather interesting to see that this resolution has come up with a salary of $900."

Mrs. Curtis: "Why has it?"

Mr. Perks: "I don't know."

Larry Bell: "I know that he had that in mind."

Mr. Phimister said that he looked after recreation commission unemployment insurance and compared the work the secretary must do. "It was a lot of work and I only had a few employees to look after," he said.

Allen Perks: "Everybody in business today knows that there is a new form to fill out every time something new comes out."

George Phimister: "I don't doubt that any of these people could do a good job. But they couldn't do it as easily as Mr. Pritchard. It would cost us a lot of time, trouble and probably expense to hire someone else."

Chairman Atkins: "I don't know whether Mr. Pritchard would take the job now."

Mrs. Curtis: "I wouldn't blame him either, after all this." To Mr. Bell, she directed the question, "Why are you speaking on Mr. Pritchard's behalf when he hasn't even applied?"

Mr. Phimister asked a question to seek clarification of Mrs. Curtis' question.

Said Mr. Bell: "Apparently Mrs. Curtis thinks I am speaking for Bob. If you knew his attitude, you would know that he doesn't want me to speak for him, nor does he want to take the job."

Mr. Perks said that he believed that the action taken by the board at the last meeting "might have been done a little too hurriedly." Mr. Atkins said that it was his own fault because he didn't vote against the resolution to advertise for a new secretary. He had not realized that he could vote but subsequent interpretation of the school act showed that he could. Mr. Bell said that being new in the chair, he could not be blamed for not voting.

When the resolution for re-appointment came before the board, the same members were lined up. Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Best and Mr. Perks against the re-appointment and Mr. Bell, Mr. Phimister and this time the chairman, in favor of the motion. The chairman cast the deciding vote.

"I am against the motion because there has been no consideration for these applications," said Mr. Perks. "Maybe some of these figures could come down. If the secretary's salary had not been quoted in the paper, it might be different. Since it was in the paper you might as well have thrown the whole thing out if you were looking for less money to pay."

Mrs. Curtis: "Why did Mr. Pritchard release his salary to the press this year and never before? Other years the salary of the treasurer officer was released but not the secretary."

Chairman Atkins: "The information is open to the press. They can publish what they want."

Mrs. Curtis: "Wasn't there an arrangement that press reports be supervised before they were published?"

Mr. Phimister: "You can't tell them what to print."

Mrs. Curtis: "But who wrote all that account in the paper? Some school matters were left out and others were not."

Mr. Atkins: "They print what they please. You can't tell a newspaper what it is supposed to write."

Mr. Pritchard was called by telephone and the chairman said that he would accept the appointment but that he would act only for one more year. "He didn't sound very happy about accepting," said Mr. Atkins.

H.S. ASS'N TALKS CODE FOR CHILD

Three excellent films, "Developing Responsibility," "Family Life" and "Appreciating our Parents," were shown at the Jan. 22 meeting of the Newmarket Home and School association. The program was highlighted by enthusiastic discussion on the establishing of a parent-child code.

The well-attended meeting, held in the Prince Charles school, was chaired by Mrs. Howard Morton who led the group in prayer. "O Canada" with Neil Luthian at the piano was followed by the brief business session; the movies; presentation of medals and cups to the field day champions; and, presentation of radios and a couch to the schools by the association.

Mrs. Nelson led the discussion period which dealt with these questions: parties and hours; radio, motion pictures, clubs and sports, skills and hobbies, attendance at school and church, parents' responsibilities re homework, social development, home duties, allowances, parent and youth relationship, profanity and falsifying in parents and children.

Leaders of the smaller discussion groups were Mrs. A. A. Baile, Mrs. Reid Atkinson, Mrs. Horace Jacques, Neil Luthian and Mrs. Ray Holbrook. Prior to the meeting pupils in grades seven and eight had discussed these questions with their teachers, H. A. Jackson, William Blackshaw, Miss Barry, Miss Denne and Samuel Jefferson.

Reports from the teachers were received and will be combined with the findings from the discussion groups. A brief report on these conclusions will be presented at the February meeting. The Alexander Muir school won the attendance prize with the highest number of parents and teachers present at the meeting.

OFFER TICKETS TO BROMFIELD TALK

The Toronto Hunters and Anglers Association will be host to 2,000 farmers on Saturday, Feb. 9, when Mr. Louis Bromfield, owner of Malabar Farm, and well-known conservationist, will speak in Massey Hall, Toronto, on the theme: "Man's Relation to the Soil."

The East Gwillimbury Federation of Agriculture and the Newmarket East Farm Forum have been given a sizable block of free tickets, and will combine to charter a bus to attend this function. Sheldon Walker is in charge of bus arrangements and a few tickets are still available from either Mrs. Wm. Bales, secretary of the farm forum, or M. L. Newroth, secretary of the Federation of Agriculture. Local farmers are urged to apply for tickets.

POULTRY EUCHE

The Poultry Euche held January 29 at Sharon Hall by the East Gwillimbury Federation of Agriculture was a tremendous success. There were 27 tables of euche. Winners were Mrs. Marian Drury, Whitechurch; Allan Balsdon, Sharon; and ladies' champion was won by Mrs. Herb Wright of Sharon, who generously returned her bird to be auctioned, which brought a good price.

Prize for the lucky draw was donated by the Newmarket Farmer's Co-op. The genial crowd is looking forward to more of these euches.

OBITUARIES

Douglas Hutchins

A death which shocked the community occurred on Thursday, Jan. 24, 1952, when Douglas Reginald Hutchins passed away suddenly at his parents' home, in his 14th year.

Born at Forest Hill Village, April 19, 1938, Douglas was the son of Reginald and Violet Hutchins and brother of Barbara.

Douglas displayed keen interests in the finer things which build toward good citizenship. He was most active in the local Boy Scout Troop and was in regular attendance at the Salvation Army Sunday school.

The funeral was held from Roadhouse and Rose parlors on Saturday, Jan. 26, and was conducted by Rev. J. T. Rhodes of St. Paul's Anglican church. The service was attended by fellow members of the 1st Newmarket Scout Troop, and the Rover Troop, who will greatly miss and hold in remembrance the many associations they have enjoyed with "Doug", their brother Scout.

Out of town residents in attendance at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Hutchins, Forest Hill Village, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carpenter and family, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cox and son Reg., Seven Bridges, Ont.

The floral gifts were many and bespoke of the high esteem in which Doug was held by his pals and many friends.

Mrs. Sadie Milton

For some years a resident of Newmarket, and a member of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. Sadie Milton, Charlotte Avenue, died at her home on January 14, 1952, after an illness of one month.

She was born in King township on March 28, 1889, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland. On January 5, 1910, her marriage took place to Mr. John Milton. Throughout her life her chief interest was in her home.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Lillie Staley and Mrs. Ben Brewer (Laura).

Rev. F. R. Meredith officiated at funeral services at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, Newmarket, on January 14, 1952. Pallbearers were Gordon Rowland, Aubrey Rowland, Vince Hodgins, Ernie Milton, Howard Milton and Gordon Milton.

Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

TEACHERS DISCUSS NEW CURRICULUM

The third in a series of discussions on curriculum revision was held by the Newmarket Public school lady teachers on Wednesday, Jan. 23, in the King George hotel. The book being studied by the group is "The Child from Five to Ten" by Dr. Arnold Gesell and Dr. Francis L. Ilg.

A report on the chapter, "The Parent-Child-Teacher Relationship," was given very capably by Miss Helen Richardson. Outlined in this chapter were many interesting points. "During a child's first five years, the basic organization of his personality, chiefly through his experiences with other persons, takes place."

"When his relationships are wholesome, his personality tends to be wholesome. A good home, providing normal parental care is the best guarantee of mental health in the growing child. The school can accomplish its maximum results only when harmony exists between home and school with the child as an innocent bystander."

"The child from five to ten has to adjust both to his parents and his teachers. Sometimes the task is very difficult when the home adults build a barrier between home and school by allowing personalities to influence their rational thinking and alter their perspective. The child, too young to judge for himself, is thus caught up in the whirlwind confusion as a result of disunity. He is in the unfortunate position of feeling perplexed, frustrated and insecure. His mental and physical health suffer as a result."

"Parent-teacher associations have accomplished important pioneering work in trying to bring home and school into closer union. But, this book suggests, they still have room for a great deal of improvement. They have depended too much on group meetings, formal programs and mass appeal to reach the desired ends. More opportunities for conferences between teachers and parents are needed."

"The text outlined personality characteristics in terms of developmental maturity and of environmental culture. The emphasis is not on academic progress but on the fundamental behaviour equipment of the child."

There will be no general meeting of the York County Hospital Women's auxiliary in February. At the annual meeting it was decided by vote that the auxiliary would hold quarterly general meetings instead of monthly ones.

On Sunday, Feb. 3, a bus load from Lorne Park college, Port Credit, will attend the services at the Free Methodist church, Newmarket. This church group of 30 voices will be featured at the morning service. Rev. L. K. Snider, principal of the school, will be the speaker in the morning.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Winn, 54 Millard Ave., on Tuesday, Feb. 5 at 3 p.m.

Mrs. E. Adams, Newmarket, will celebrate her 90th birthday on Monday, Feb. 4.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gown in a ballerina length dress of powder blue lace over taffeta, with matching feather cap, and she wore a corsage of red roses tipped with blue feathers.

The groom's brother, Mr. Harley Jones, acted as best man. The bride's mother received in a grey dress with black accessories, and wore a corsage of pink and white roses.

The groom's mother was dressed in a grey crepe dress with cream accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

The reception was held at the King George hotel, where 50 guests were entertained at a turkey dinner.

The toast to the bride was given by Rev. Breckon, and a toast to the bridesmaid was given by the bride's brother, James Sanderson.

January 19 is the wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, and a toast was proposed by their eldest son, Roy Sanderson of Belleville, Ont.

Mr. Harold Sanderson acted as master of ceremonies.

For her trip to the States the bride wore a winter white dress with matching coat and green accessories. On their return the couple will reside in Newmarket.

Out of town guests were from Windsor, St. Catharines, Belleville, Bowmanville, Aurora,

A man can still light a cigar without first offering one to a lady.

At a recent Child Health Centre clinic, one immediately noticed the colorfulness of the scene, far removed from the usual stiff atmosphere of clinics. Partly responsible was the juvenile style parade of white sweaters, plaid skirts, blue rompers, yellow slacks, or red snow-pants. All the staff assisting were professional white, but this did not seem to frighten the children. The only tears heard were from a child being weighed, and this despite all the efforts of Mrs. Robert Lewis to convince him that it couldn't hurt.

Many people think that Newmarket needs a better sign to attract the attention of motorists as they come up Yonge St. Some well-publicized towns have slogans like "Birthplace of Esther Williams" or "Home of Marie Dressler"; others have a spectacular natural setting. Why couldn't Newmarket have a large bright sign, with name and population in the centre and a border of pictures showing the advantages to be found here—varied industries, pleasant residential districts, good stores, a theatre, branches of national clubs. And a little humor brought into the drawings wouldn't hurt. Everybody looks at clever cartoons, and the motorist likes to be amused as well as informed. The extra expense might be justified.

So often an opportunity like this is allowed to slip by, but some residents of Newmarket did make complete collections of the pictures taken during the royal tour of Canada. They will all want to see the motion picture "Royal Journey", coming soon to theatres in the district. Those who saw the film in Toronto, remember many highlights: the new significance given to the playing of the National Anthem; the vivid colors of Canada; and the pride felt as one saw the Prince and Princess.

York County hospital is a friendly place, a part of the community and the project of some organizations like the Business and Professional Women's club. They are furnishing a room and had, they believed, thought out each item carefully—bed, bed lamp, desk, and other things to come. But it takes the customer to be right. One patient pointed out there wasn't any mirror. He mumbled something about not being able to see to shave. So a mirror comes next, even before an easy chair.

DOUBLE TIE IN AURORA
Deuces across the board in the Aurora pee-wee Allen Cup hunt Saturday morning. Detroit 2, Canadiens 2; Leafs 2, Chicago 2. Keith Browning scored both Detroit tallies. Larry Sutton and Ron Walker assisted. Teeter Murrell and Hughie Bolsby got the Canadiens' goals. Hughie Hammond took a pass from Don Zimmerman for the Leafs' first marker. Don Glass shifted through the Hawks defense for Leafs number two. Larry Woods and Jack Murby were the Hawks' netters. A pair of good Bills, Duckenfield and Calhoun, set up the Hawks' twine benders.

better see your Doctor... and bring his Prescription here

● Actually, there's no such thing as "a simple cold." There are dozens of respiratory disorders, responding to a wide variety of treatments. So don't try to do your own diagnosis! See your Doctor and follow his experienced counsel. His treatment may involve one or more prescriptions. In that case, bring those prescriptions here for precise attention.

Full house tonight with the S.R.O. sign out early is the prediction for Newmarket arena as Collingwood make their last group appearance in canaltown. No need to mention all the details. We only hope the game turns out as rugged and interesting as it can be. Spits will be in there if they get an early foot on the sailormen. You don't very often come from behind on Collingwood. A win will clinch a play-off spot for the Spits.

Exhibition hockey at Aurora the next two Fridays as a cock-eyed schedule finds the Bears away from home three times before a home game in Aurora with Hespeler on Feb. 15. Opposition for Friday had better be good as the kids need toughies. And on Friday, it is good.

Roy Conacher will bring Midland Juniors to Aurora. The northerners, sponsored by Jack Rutherford, have had a bye in the "C" series, but are rated as fast, young, and likely to upset Collingwood. This will be one of the so-called "acid test" games. Aurora will play a return game.

Friday, Feb. 8, will find the Bears pitted against the former Aurora junior players of the past few years in a benefit game for the Wilkie fund. Don't know just who will dress for the fray, but from the Spits: Spider Gibson, Laurie Thoms, Grant Firth, Bill Patrick, Bill McGhee and Jack Andrews will be available. Bill Attridge, Fred Southwood, Tommy Brodie, Ron Simmons, Bill Mundell, Dougie Ross, Don Merchant, Tommy Hulme and "Red" Boyle are available from the mercantile and rural circuits. Ken Tupling at Bradford and from Richmond Hill, Dougie Moore and Jack Atkinson. There are many more available, but that crowd will do. They'll all be trying.

Rusty White, former Richmond Hill all-round athlete and one-time Aurora hockeyist, is one of the board of strategy of the Fergus Junior club who broke even with the Bears last week. The teams dropped a one-goal game in each other's backwash. Rusty didn't come to Aurora with the team last Friday but he was in the Fergus box on Wednesday.

We liked the Fergus club we saw here, and from their former appearance and early season form they've come a long way. We'd drop our chips on them to take the "D" group. Too bad Aurora won't be in the play-offs with them and say Hespeler, Nobleton, or Elmira. What a series that would make.

Bob Lovell, the Fergus captain and centre star, to these eyes at least, looked like the outstanding player of the group. Big Jack Mann, the man-mountain defenceman of the visitors, while a little uncouth, couldn't be kept off an all-star team. Rex Van Wyck, the Orangeville lad in the nets, gives adequate goal coverage, and McCabes and Tweddle are fine big blueline prospects. Up front, right winger Don Gear, and sub-centre, "Sticks" Dobbie, are mighty fine performers.

Reg Hamilton scouted the game at Fergus for his Chicago connection at Galt. It's no secret that he's got his eyes on one or two of the Fergus boys and from the Aurora club Bob Forhan, Walt Fines and Andy Closs also got some close attention. Hamilton plans to be on hand to see the Bears go when they start the "C" playdowns.

Unknown to most people in the Aurora arena, there was a pro scout in attendance at the Bolton game. Too bad he caught the Aurora kids on that one, but we told him they could and would do better. Won't say what he thought of some of the lads but we do know that he liked Harvey Wallace of the Bolton club who is still a juvenile, and playing mighty fine hockey. It's the age that counts from the pro angle and Forhan and Wallace both have that.

Jackie Woods of Nobleton is another youngster who is worth taking a second look at. He's on Hap. Emma reserve list right now. Wally Rhodes, a goalie, will likely join the Bears, especially now that it's almost sure that ill-health will keep Joe Burke of the Aurora team out of the nets for the balance of the season. Rhodes would class as an import, under a special clause.

A fight is on for the possession of player Archie Forfar. Archie lives at Musselman's Lake, clearly in Aurora territory. Last season he played with Newmarket Rockets, strengthening Aurora's claim. This year, aside from bush-league, he's played six or seven games with Unionville Jets. His certificate was passed, 'tis said, in the belief he lived in Markham township, and therefore in the Metropolitan area. Forfar would definitely aid Aurora in "C". Go and get him, Andy and Jim!

Odde and Soles Dept.
The "Sonny" Townsley who is presently performing with great gusto for Milton intermediates is not "the original Sonny Townsley" of Newmarket, Oakville and Acton fame. It's the junior member of the family who is twice the size of dad and while good, not nearly as smart as his father when he was in his prime back in the days of Metro hockey and the days of real sport, when Sonny was dubbed "the perennial junior".

Ronnie O'Hearn, one of the better-trying members of last season's Aurora Bears, is playing for Concord in the T.H.L. intermediate section, and rates as one of the top scorers. Archie Grimsditch, the pro at Thornhill Uplands, advises us that the fifty course, which has operated as a pay-as-you-play course the past two years, will revert to being strictly "a club" in '52. That will undoubtedly mean a heavier flow of golfers towards Aurora Highlands which is headed for its biggest season. Good job that it'll be an 18 hole.

We don't suppose that the name, Ted Anstett, will mean much to any but the closest students of softball in the district. Anstett was the red-thatched catcher for Richmond Hill Roses in the semester of '41 when the Hill annexed the York-Simcoe title. He shared the duties with Harold Echlin, who either played first base or the outfield when Anstett was behind the plate. This winter Ted's playing brilliant hockey in the nets for Woodstock Intermediates.

Bill Lovering, who is one of the best players on the present St. Andrew's College team, is the son of a great athletic father who performed with distinction for the Andrians in both hockey and football at the time St. Andrew's College team, is the son of a great athletic father who performed with distinction for the Andrians in both football at the time St. Andrew's, with "Mucker" Mercer, "Stuffy" Mueller, "Weiner" Lough, Fred Miller, and the Paul Brothers used to compete on even terms with Marlboros, Newmarket, and all the rest in junior "A". Wonder how many oldtimers remember those names from yesterday.

New lights are being installed at Richmond Hill arena this year at a cost of $2,500 for wiring and fixtures. It's a fire prevention must, and also a must to remedy the lighting which for years has made the Hill arena the poorest lit rink in these parts. It's one of the few natural ice arenas left. Count them in the area: Markham, the Hill, Bradford, Beeton, Bolton, Queensville, Keswick, Sutton and Ux-

NORTH YORK RUSH LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES TAKING SHAPE

Good news on a North York Rush League championship series. King-Vaughan Hockey League executives on Sunday voted unanimously in favor of the project. Plan now is to have an all-star team from the Stouffville, King - Vaughan, Newmarket and District, and Aurora Town League circuits meet for the North York crown. Presidents and secretaries of the four leagues will be meeting shortly to finalize plans for the series.

The six coaches of the teams in the King-Vaughan loop will make the selection of the all-star team to represent the league. Coaches Harry Thoms, Harry Lavender, Murray Edgar and Harold Craddock are now voting on an all-star team to represent the Newmarket and District League.

PLEAS GET RESULTS

Pleas for goal-keeping equipment to aid the school league teams has paid off handsomely. Following the donation by Rae Smith and Mrs. Bill McComb, two more sets were turned over to the teams last week by Bill Bone and Frank Clark.

There's still a need for larger goalie pads for the pee-wee teams. Anyone interested can contact Frank Hollingsworth, Peter Gorman, the North End tobacconist, has also come along with an offer of a set of sweaters for a team.

BEARS MEET MIDLAND C'S

The question uppermost in the minds of Coach Charlie Rowntree and Manager Andy Closs and Aurora fans in general ever since the Bears were shifted up into C ranks has been: "How will the Bears fare against C competition?" One and all will have the answer Friday night when Roy Conacher's Midland O.H.A. C team move into Aurora arena for a romp with the Bears. Game time is 8.30 p.m.

The Greenshirts, who featured the first woman secretary in O. H. A. history, Mrs. R. J. Smalley, used a lot of players that year as the draft call began to dig deeper into Canadian manpower. Let's see now, they had: Ginger Hall in goal, aided by Robert "Silent" Peters and "Mickey" Smith. On defence Bill Pringle was doing great guns, partnered by Bill Burkholder, Bud Gilbey (present village constable), Bill Roberts, once the toast of canaltown for his bashing tactics, and Schmidt, then up from Sutton juniors. Join McComb was the league's leading scorer and the ace of the Sutton club, aided by Jack Culverwell, Syd. Shepstone, Gordy Diplock, Ivan Gilbey, Harvey Gilbey, Cec. Carpenter, Bennie Harris, Jack Crozier, "Bee" Mabley, "Cowboy" Brandon, Griffiths, Harry Kirkham among others.

Mebbe we can persuade Mickey Smith, the present manager of the Spits, who did his best goal-tending chore that season, to give us his idea as to how the Greenshirts would rate with his present club. How about it Mickey?

We often get the poser asked us. Do they play better hockey now than they did 10 or 20 years ago? What about all these players from yesteryear you mention? Would they catch a place on any of the present outfits? Mighty interesting, and mighty hard to answer. We'll try to deal with it at a later date. Meanwhile, how about a few comments from some of the fans!

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN
by Elmer Ferguson

Today's column could be entitled: "What Price Glory?" an old, ironic sports theme. This is the story of Jim Thorpe, a great amateur, winner of the 1912 Olympic decathlon and pentathlon, though you'd never know it by scanning official amateur hand-books and manuals.

Twice, in the last two years, I met the great Indian athlete, the story of whose phenomenal Olympic feats were ruthlessly swept from the record-books as if their presence there would constitute an abomination. This bit of far-fetched inquisitorial intolerance and small-minded bigotry was inspired, doubtless, by a childish thought that with no printed record, Thorpe's greatness would soon be forgotten, that later generations would be unaware such an athletic great ever existed.

I met Thorpe one night in Montreal. He was trying then to eke out a living as manager of an Indian wrestler, and professional promoters, who owed him nothing except pity for his lowly estate, were more kind to Thorpe than were those who hounded him from the ranks of amateurism. For his wrestler was not a very good wrestler, and didn't last very long. But for a year, he got employment at his trade, for the sake of Jim Thorpe and his memories.

I asked Jim Thorpe if he thought he had been dealt with unfairly when his records were expunged from the official books. "It doesn't matter now," he answered quietly. But you could sense that here was an embittered man. And that was all he would say, about the loss of his trophies, sent back to the men he had defeated fairly on Sweden's Olympic field, and the garrotting of his records: "It doesn't matter now."

I met him again, only a few weeks ago, in Jack Dempsey's New York restaurant. He was but recently out of hospital, and a great plaster covered his lower lip, hiding the marks of an operation for skin cancer. He was shabbily dressed, his hair unkempt, as if he no longer cared, even though at that very moment, a modern sports world was seeking to prove that Jim Thorpe hadn't been forgotten. And he con-jured up a smile as some youngsters, who had been dining with their parents, clustered round him, seeking his autograph. I doubt if they knew much, if anything, about him, but the parents had said: "That's Jim Thorpe," and that a younger generation was interested enough to get his autograph made Jim Thorpe happy.

"Jim is bitter," his wife said, "he feels that his own generation forgot him. He feels he was hardly dealt with. Jim was truly an amateur when he won the Olympic honors, an amateur in spirit. He was, indeed, just an ignorant Indian boy off the reservation, who had played baseball because he loved the game, saw no harm in accepting a few dollars payment for his services. He was an amateur in the Olympics, which had nothing to do with baseball. He feels bitter about being forced to return his trophies, bitter that his records were deleted from the books. It is, to him, as if he had never lived."

But Jim Thorpe hadn't been forgotten after all. Funds were started. Dollar donations poured in. For the present, Jim Thorpe won't face poverty.

But what price glory? It's a pitiful thing that the greatest athlete of the first half-century should be forced, in his declining days, to depend on charity for the very necessities of life. Stranger still, (or is it?) that professional sport should feel impelled to rally to the aid of a man whose greatest fame was achieved in amateur competition. There's something of mockery here.

What would make Jim Thorpe happier, even than money, we think, would be to have his amateur status returned to him as a good-will gesture, his Olympic records placed back in the official books. After all, how long can a man's sentence last, for a trivial technical offense? Must it be a life sentence? Or is the quality of mercy completely unstrained?

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

jects. When there are enough students for any one class, arrangements can be made for setting up that class at the earliest possible date.

The progress of these arrangements will be reported in the paper. In the meantime, the questionnaire is being reprinted together with the results of the replies. It must be emphasized that success of this project will rest on the demand for the classes. The classes are financed by students pooling the cost of instructor, materials, and facilities.

Replies to the questionnaire to date show: domestic science, 1; leather craft, 6; carpentry, 13; welding, 2; diesel study, 1; typing and shorthand, 6; locksmith, 1; mathematics, 2; house wiring, 4; basket weaving, 1; blueprint reading, 1; mechanics, 3; study of English, 3; etching, 1; languages, 1; brick laying, 2; art, 3; industrial maintenance, 1.

Again, it must be emphasized that the larger the class in any one subject, the greater the possibility that it will be established.

SEEK WINNER
A successful Italian spaghetti supper was held last night at the St. John's school by the Catholic Women's league. The winning door ticket was number 94 but no person has claimed the prize yet. Holder of the ticket is asked to contact Mrs. Rose Fee, phone 42, Newmarket, to claim a large basket of fruit.

Life begins for Frederic March and Martha Scott. Of humanity's many unsung figures, few have been less celebrated than ministers in small towns. "One Foot in Heaven," which tells the story of a country minister, is one of the exceptions. You will delight in the warm beauty and comedy of the incidents of his every day life and applaud his humaneness.

"One Foot in Heaven" plays Roxy, Newmarket, four days starting Monday, Feb. 4.

Bears Lose First At Home

MIDGETS LOSE FIRST

Newmarket Optimist midgets tasted their first defeat Tuesday. They dropped a 5-2 decision to Alliston juveniles. The Optimists got away to a fast start on Geo. Davis's counter, set up by Bill Mair. They held the rugged, hard driving Alliston band to a 2-all deadlock after two rounds on the strength of Bob Wilson's mid-game tally. Their victory was washed down the drain as Alliston unleashed a three goal third period assault.

N.H.S. LOSE TWO IN AURORA

Newmarket and Aurora high schools met head on in a North York Secondary Schools basketball triple-header last Friday in Aurora. N.H.S. came out of it on the short end. Frank Gregoire's double-blue won two of the three contests. Scores were: senior, Aurora 30, Newmarket 23; junior A, Newmarket 32, Aurora 30; junior B, Aurora 33, Newmarket 14.

HASHMAN AWARD

For A Daring Move

Betcha you're looking for Orrie Thoms or Myles McInnis to snatch the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass this week for those important tie-up goals Thursday. But we're going farther and naming Spits' playing coach, Al Shewchuk. Al can take a bow for selling a record, coach's record that is. Can't ever recall reading of or seeing a coach with the fortitude to lift his goalie twice in one game to gain a tie. But that was what Shewchuk did Thursday. Perhaps it was crowding luck but it accomplished the purpose. Pulling Joe Tunney the first time was all the more daring because the Spits at the time were playing a man short.

King, 'Berg Tie, Bolton Wins

Swing To Triple-Headers

No more Wednesday night single games in King-Vaughan Hockey League. Instead, bargain rate triple header every Friday. That's the decision handed down by the league executive meeting Sunday in Nobleton. Wednesday games haven't been drawing—just breaking even, reported league secretary Bill Breedon. Friday night win-bills have been drawing well but not as good as last year.

First triple header comes up this Friday at 7:45 p.m. First two periods to run 22 minutes straight time, the last period 15 minutes stop time. No rest between the first and second periods, just a change of ends.

Ray Rogers, Kettleby's number one hockey citizen, reported his team had to have help if they were to continue. They had lost their two imports and regulars Jack Cober and Bill Gillham. League delegates came to the rescue, allowing them to sign on two new imports and replacements for Cober and Gillham.

King "Maroons" will also be allowed to take on a replacement for defenseman Norm Taylor who fractured his wrist in last Friday's game. On a complaint from Bolton club, Devin Robertson of Kleinburg was suspended for one game for rough play. President Elgin Hastings was in the chair for Sunday's meeting and following executive were present: Bill Breedon, Bruce Hall, Ted Hugheson, Bill Wassink, Ted Rogers, Chas. Ellis, Andy Shaw, Devins Robertson, Ken Goodfellow, Art Hill, Bill Benstead.

Imps. To Meet Weston

Newmarket juvenile hockey executives were told this week that their first opposition in the O.M.H.A. B playoffs will be Weston. A series winner must be declared by Feb. 12.

The juveniles, who are struggling through their O.M.H.A. opposition with ease, took Sutton "Greenhorns" 15-3 at the arena Tuesday in a York-Ontario League contest. The Imperials put seven in during the final period.

Don "Mickey" Barker led the Imperials with four goals. Freeman West did the hat-trick, Bob Andrews, Bib Phillips and Ted Rogers got two goals each. Gerald Chapman and Ron Knowles, Aurora gifts, rattled the Sutton twinery for one apiece.

Two games to brief you on over the past week in the King-Vaughan scrambles. Kettleby-Nobleton Wednesday clash was postponed. Schomberg and King tied 8 all, Bolton pulled into third place with an 8-4 spilling of Kleinburg.

Bruce Hall's King Maroons led the Hastings Schombergers 8-4 with four minutes to go. Then the Bergers started sending at a goal a minute clip and tied it with 45 seconds to go.

Bergers got the early jump to lead 2-0. King took charge in the middle round to come out of it 5-3. Don Marchant powered the Schomberg late attack with three third period goals. Bill Winters clipped in with a second and a late third period marker. Floyd Dyer, Sonny Hanlon and Bud Brown stepped into the scoring show with singles. Brownie's tally was the important tying goal. Jim Patton and John Richards were Maroons top hands with two goals apiece. Gord Orr, Gerald Chapman, Ross Follitt and Loring Doolittle dipped their fingers in the scoring pie for singles.

Bolton got away with a four-goal first period to spill Kleinburg 8-4. Harvey Wallace paced Bolton with four goals, Jack Gibson and Ted Derbyshire two each, Bert Johnston one, Ted Smithson, Harry Lostchuk, Chuck Ellis and Walt Bell were the Kleinburg snipers.

All-Stars, King Tie

In an inter-league test of strength, King "Maroons" of the King-Vaughan circuit and Aurora Town League all-stars battled to a 1-all tie in an exhibition game in Aurora arena Tuesday.

Alan Dowbiggin drove home a Stan Foster pass midway through the second period to break the scoring ice and gave King an early lead. At the three quarter pole of the third Earl MacDonald tied it for the all-stars on a set up pass from Mickey Sutton. Charlie Case in stars' cage and Tommy Hulme in the King citadel came up all-star affairs. Loring Doolittle, a tower of strength on King rear-guard, drew the only penalty of the contest.

Aurora: C. Case, M. Sutton, S. McGhee, C. Ellis, W. Kingston, H. Richardson, E. Rose, B. Rose, D. Holman, A. Lloyd, T. Brodie, E. MacDonald, H. Stephenson.

King City: T. Hulme, L. Doolittle, C. Taylor, D. Couch, S. Foster, M. McQuarrie, R. Follitt, A. Dowbiggin, D. McQuarrie.

Pull Tunney Twice For Tie

Condolences to 200 "give up easy" fans. They left Thursday before the fun had really begun. Score was Orilla Terriers 8, Newmarket 8.

The picture when the downcast 200 departed was Orilla 7, Spits 5 with a little over a minute to go. Jack Andrews, burly defenseman, was fuming through a boarding sentence.

Al Shewchuk pulls Joe Tunney. Laurie Thoms sinks a Pink Tunstead rebound. It's 7-6 five seconds after Joe Tunney is out. Twenty-nine seconds later, half a minute to go, Laurie Thoms does it all over again. Don Gibson, who has already put in a busy scoring evening supplies the pass. That tied it.

Fans, 1,200 strong, whooped it up for joy. Overtime, Orilla makes it 8-7 at 2:40. Murray

MOUNTIES, VANDORF WIN

Mount Albert and Vandorf were winners in last week's Lake Simcoe Junior Hockey League tussles. Mount Albert, sparked by two goal performances by Stan Pollard, Doug Card, Jim Cupples and Jack Hicks, clamped a 9-5 loss on Queensville. It was the Mounties' second straight win. Vandorf swamped Holland Landing 10-1 to collect their initial win. Bob Staley hoisted in four goals, Bill Bennett and Dick VanNestrand two each. Howard Ash staved off a complete Holland Landing miss.

Richardson has to whack at it twice to get it by Joe Tunney but by it goes. Then in the last minute of overtime, Joe Tunney takes the long skate to the sidelines. At 9:28 Myles McInnis fires that all important tying tally. The play was from Bill Johnston to Don Smith then to McInnis for the actual flipping in the Terriers' cage.

A sparkling hat-trick show by Don Gibson gave the Spits a 3-1 first period lead. Laurie Thoms assisted for two, Al Shewchuk one. Bill Mundell tipped in a shot but it was called back as "kicked in."

Spits' outthrust Orilla 2-1 in the second. Harold Tunstead sank a dead-on pass from Swiftly Todd. Bill Johnston salted away a three-wayer that started on the warclub of Swiftly Todd, thence to Don Smith, before Johnston waved his magic willow wand. That put the Spits in a 5-2 coasting position.

Coast they did and before you could shuffle a deck of cards right, Orilla rammed in five unanswered goals and the invaders were 7-5 leaders. Barrie graduate Don Bowen, Murray Richardson, Jack Dyte and Ab Bowen accumulated all the Orilla counting.

Ministers Recommend

"One Foot in Heaven"

"The picture has immense possibilities of religious good which the ministry and the churches should not let slip."

—Methodist Bishop John M. Moore, Dallas.

"The presentation is vital, rich and appealing, full-sized, dynamic and profoundly moving. . . . By patronizing 'One Foot in Heaven,' the first of a cycle, we will help usher in a new day of better pictures."

—From a statement by 15 Portland-Oregon ministers written after seeing the picture.

"It is often funny and is always spiritually heartening. It's just that it's so perfectly human that it gets you. 'One Foot in Heaven' is one of the two finest pictures I have seen in 15 months."

—John Chapman, writing in his newspaper column from Hollywood.

"('One Foot in Heaven') is sparkling with humor and packed full of human interest, and is at the same time a tribute to the Christian ministry and to the Church. In artistic quality it leaves nothing to be desired. It is safe to say that millions of people will see this film and from it carry away a better impression of the Christian Church and its ministry."

Attorney General's Letter Criticizes Old Council: Full Arena Report Needed

On the stroke of 8 p.m. Mayor Rose struck the table with his gavel and council was in session. A stickler for punctuality, Dr. Crawford Rose keeps his eye on the clock, and administers the medicine of a sharp glance at late-comers. We will not name them, but there were two late-comers at the second session of the new council, and they crept guiltily to their places during the pause that refreshes!

Among the correspondence there was one outstanding and surprising letter. It came from the office of the attorney-general and was dated January 11, 1952. Addressed to "His Worship, Dr. Crawford Rose, Mayor, Aurora," and signed, "Dana Porter," it read as follows: "I have given very careful consideration again to the whole question of office accommodation for No. 5 district headquarters of the Ontario Provincial Police.

"It is regrettable that the council of Aurora took no steps to provide the accommodation required during the last year, although the clerk was advised of the necessities of the situation. Since there appeared to be no particular interest in retaining the headquarters at Aurora, arrangements were made for premises in Newmarket. Not only is the Provincial Police committed to these new premises, but structural alterations are being made now. It would be impossible to withdraw from the present position. Yours very truly, Dana Porter."

PAGE ELEVEN THURSDAY, THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF JANUARY, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

New Name Is The Lions Hall Benefit Hockey Night Feb. 8: Rotarians Plan Ice Carnival

The die is cast; the vote taken; and the historic structure known since the year 1881 as the Mechanics' Hall now has a new name. Henceforth it will be known as The Lions Hall. Some sentimental tears may well be shed over the loss of a name that meant much to Aurora's old-timers, but hardly anything to a younger generation.

The important matter is that the hall will serve the purpose (and in several ways better purpose) for which it was originally built. It was originally built as a community hall and it served that purpose successfully over a great many years, as old-timers know very well.

We understand that the suggestion to call it the "Lions Den" did not make much headway among the voters. Anybody who has taken the interest to look up an ordinary dictionary will not be surprised at that. "Den" has several meanings, and one at least among them of a very unsuitable character for respectable members of society.

Conservative as we are in the matter of retaining old names, when they are reputable and historic, we shall accept the decision to re-name the Mechanics' hall without further argument or dissent. At least one old-timer whose opinion we quoted on "Lions Den" (and got ourselves into a heap of a dispute for so doing!) will be appeased, we fancy, by "The Lions Hall." The lady whose views we quoted has certainly done better in Aurora than Chamberlain did at Munich.

So here's wishing the Aurora Lions club success and god-speed in their new domicile, The Lions Hall. The new name does slip off the tongue more easily than an alternative name, "Lions Community Hall." Community hall it is, of course. That was a major reason why the Lions asked for it. The Lions Hall. The name has dignity as well as a due significance.

"Wilkie" Benefit
A great hockey occasion at the Aurora arena will be the Benefit Hockey Game for "Wilkie" which is to take place on Friday night, February 8, commencing at 8 p.m.

The participating teams are the Aurora juniors (1952) and the members of the junior team, 1949-50, for which "Wilkie" was playing at the period when his accident laid him low.

Thanks are due to Jim Wilson and Andy Closs for sponsoring the Aurora juniors. "Wilkie" himself intends to be present at the game, and it is proposed to present him with the donated motor car at the end of what is expected to be a very keen contest. A cheque for the balance of the "Wilkie" Fund will also be handed to him. After which "Wilkie" himself will take the opportunity of expressing his thanks to the public for the generosity shown by so many people.

These facts we learned from Councillor Ralph Tucker, chairman of the "Wilkie" Fund committee, to whom tribute is due for the hard work done in this very human cause by the chairman and members of the committee. We hope there will be a huge turnout on Friday night, Feb. 8, at the Memorial Arena to witness what will prove an exciting game, and see "Wilkie" and hear his voice.

Enjoying The Winter

"Those who have cars never really enjoy a good Canadian winter," said a neighbor to us the other day. We have no car and we have enjoyed the winter, except for the slippery sidewalks. We have found walking from our home to our Doan Hall office extremely exhilarating.

Tribute is due in general to our near-neighbors on Spruce and Catherine for the care they take in keeping the sidewalks clear of snow and ice. Here and there omissions occur, but by and large we would hazard that these are among the best-attended streets in Aurora.

Mr. Leslie Wilson was busy the other day shovelling away the snow, and we paused to enquire if he had any suitable verse for the season and the occasion. He quoted for our ears some lovely lines in the late autumn, which referred to the "melancholy days being here." On this occasion, as he made stationary his snow shovel, he recalled the lines of "yon weary, wintry sun," from Burns' poem, "Man Was Made To Mourn."

However, spring is not far away. Mrs. Holman of Centre St., and of Whitelaw's store, reports the presence of a lively frog in her cellar. Soon we shall be reading the early letters in newspapers reporting the arrival of the first robin of the season.

New Members

Lion Gordon Duckworth was telling us the other day of the Lawrence DeFoe Singers who are a Toronto choral group of some 25 mixed voices of which Lion Tom Carter, of the Aurora Lions club, has been a member for the past 15 years.

The DeFoe Choral Group has been in existence for a period of 25 years, and is quite famous for its presentations in various parts of Ontario. We are quite sure that its appearance at the Lions hall on Thursday, Feb. 14, will attract a very large crowd.

The Aurora Lions club has added to its membership the following initiates: Cecil Alcock, Elwood Davis, Alex McTaggart, Vic. Brown, Dr. Rex Sedore, Bill West, Aubrey Holmes and Al. Snow. Besides these, Mr. Geo. Fish, who has succeeded Mr. H. M. McKenzie as manager of the Aurora branch of the Imperial Bank, is transferring his membership in the Virginia Lions club to the Aurora club. Another transferring member is Mr. Keith Johnson, formerly of the Credit Valley Lions club.

We would remind our readers of the Aurora Art Group exposition, sponsored by the Aurora Lions club, which takes place on Friday and Saturday, February 1 and 2.

Rotary Club

The Aurora Rotary club has plans for interesting events, namely, an ice carnival and a ladies' night, both of which will be outstanding projects in the life of this new but energetic Aurora organization.

Rotarian Charles Delaney has already put in a considerable amount of preliminary work on the ice carnival project, which has been enthusiastically supported by all members of the club.

Working with him is the following committee: Don Basset, John Willis, Jr., Burt Gilbert, Lees O'ram and Harry Sexton.

The ladies' night, for members and their ladies, will be held on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 7, at the Ridge Inn, Oak Ridges, at 8.30 p.m., and there will be singing, cards and games, followed by attractive refreshments.

When the ice carnival project has been fully planned, further announcements of this public enterprise on the part of the Rotary club will appear in Aurora News Pages.

Royal Theatre

Manager Clifford Griffiths is planning to bring to the Royal theatre at an early date a wonderful showing in color of "The Royal Journey," which is certain to attract packed houses.

The record houses established in 1951 at the Royal theatre is

EDITORIALS

WHAT OTHERS THINK

In the writing of these editorial articles our purpose, from time to time, is to express the opinions of citizens who are deeply interested in the affairs of their town and have no medium of their own in which to state them. Citizens have become increasingly aware that ours is an independent newspaper, free from interference, and ready and anxious to publish facts that otherwise would never become known.

In Aurora News Pages we have ventilated many things that would have remained buried in a closed book but for what we regard as our first duty to the citizens of Aurora. This recognition of our unfettered services explains why we received a telephone call last week from one of our valued subscribers, stating the difficulty experienced in buying some extra copies of our paper from the newsagents on Main street, who in three instances were sold out. The papers were wanted for out-of-town mailings to friends of a special write-up in Aurora News Pages.

If we receive information of public value from reliable sources we publish it in the interests of the citizens. If we think that something needs to be said in the public interest, we say it, even though it may offend some people. The first duty of a newspaper is service to its readers.

We published a two-column letter from Mr. T. F. Swindle in our issue of December 13, 1951, on the operations of the arena. Mr. Swindle served on the arena board for some years and would know his facts. We felt we were doing a public service in publishing his letter. It was open to any of his colleagues on the board to question his facts if they chose to do so.

We shall continue the work of publishing all the material information at our disposal in the interests of the citizens of Aurora.

APPROPRIATE RECOGNITION

Recognition of a good man's worth in his own lifetime is too often delayed, and unfortunately in the majority of cases overlooked altogether. Posthumous tributes are of no avail to those who have earned them; they are beyond the reach of praise and of blame. We should see to it that those who deserve them get their due thanks before it is too late.

That is the purpose which inspired the Recreation commission in the case of a man who was one of its original founders, and is now retiring from its active direction. Five years ago there was no Recreation commission and its creation was effected in an atmosphere that was lukewarm and distrustful. Today the Aurora Recreation commission is one of the most flourishing organizations of its kind in Canada.

The man whom the commission seeks to honor is Thomas F. Swindle, who, in the face of what looked like insuperable difficulties, went right on towards his goal, even to the extent of finding money from his own pocket to do so. Many public representatives will readily spend other people's money; they will rarely use their own in support of a fine cause.

All that the commission asked of council was permission to name the Mill and Tyler streets children's playground the "Thomas F. Swindle Playground," in honor of the man chiefly responsible for its existence. With his own hands he helped clear the ground of rubble and when we last saw it many groups of children were having a happy time there in the sunlight.

Council should have grasped eagerly at the first opportunity to show Tom Swindle how deeply his work for the children was appreciated. They have delayed the granting of the honor for a period of two weeks when, no doubt, it will be suitably acknowledged. Councillor Corbett was right when he recommended immediate recognition of Mr. Swindle's fine and unselfish contribution to the children and community of Aurora.

ORIGINS OF A FREE PRESS (I)

Not too many people are familiar with the history of what we understand as our free newspapers of today. We mean by "free" that, by and large, so long as our daily and weekly newspapers and other periodicals pay due regard to the laws governing libel, sedition and obscenity, they have the right to publish whatever they wish.

Such constitutional publishing freedom will, of course, be governed by other considerations such as good taste and the desire not to embarrass unnecessarily private and other citizens. Much that the law would allow is not published by editors who have regard for the ethical standards of the periodicals they control.

The freedom of the British press, as it is broadly understood, was not evolved until the year 1695, when a majority vote of a standing committee of the British parliament removed censorship and royal decrees which until that date had restricted what could and could not be published.

Before the early spring of 1695, when the vote referred to above was taken, such news as was permitted to be published was distributed in what were called "News-Letters," mostly hand-written. Other names for these news-sheets were "Mercury," "Intelligence," "Coronto," and "Gazette." Some of these names have survived and are in use today.

The first free newspaper published in England, following the removal of press censorship, was called "The Flying Post" and it made its appearance on May 17, 1695. It was issued three times weekly. Nearly seven years later the first daily newspaper in Britain was published. This was the "Daily Courant," whose first issue appeared on March 11, 1702. The first British weekly was the "Evening Courant Saturday Post," in which "Robinson Crusoe" was issued serially in 165 numbers.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

By J.A. CARROLL, Secretary Manager
ONTARIO PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Editor's note: This is the fourth of a series of weekly stories which John A. Carroll, assistant deputy minister of agriculture for Ontario and formerly secretary-manager of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, will write about the visit of Canada's champion plowmen to the British Isles, Germany, Denmark and Sweden.

Copenhagen, Denmark: Yesterday we stood in a Danish cheese factory and watched the making of the first experimental batch of cheddar cheese produced in this country.

The sight left us with mixed feelings.

As agricultural observers and your reporters we knew this was red-hot news. But as three Canadians we also knew we were watching something that may turn out to be a new threat to the Canadian cheddar market in Great Britain.

We gathered from our Danish friends that the experiment was being made to see if it was possible for Danish cheesemakers to turn out a cheddar acceptable to the British in an attempt "to take up the slack" of Canadian cheddar.

It doesn't take an exceptionally keen eye to see that if such a cheddar is produced, in the years to come it may not only be the slack that is taken up.

Even with that thought in mind the three of us (Norman Tyndall, of Richmond Hill, the champion tractor plowman, Eugene Timbers, of Milliken, the champion horse plowman, and myself) felt great admiration for these enterprising Danes.

Need British Market

They need the British market as much as we do; perhaps more so. For despite the fact the people look well-dressed and are well-fed, there is austerity here. No automobiles have been imported since 1933; and for those with cars gasoline costs 50 cents a gallon. Britain has been importing only limited quantities of butter, bacon and eggs - and at low prices - 50 sterling credit is as low as dollar credit here.

We have been here just over 36 hours and have another day and a half to spend in this orderly and well-planned little country. Tomorrow we shall be visiting two of the area show farms; one of 90 acres and the other a completely mechanized farm of 1,500 acres.

It had been originally planned that we would motor from West Germany to Denmark, but our German hosts thought we would appreciate more time here so they made last-minute arrangements for us to fly by Finnish Airlines from Hamburg to Copenhagen.

Flying is becoming almost routine with us, for it was by air that we traveled from London to Hamburg. That flight seemed all too short. It was a beautiful morning and we had a wonderful view of the English countryside and were able to see the shipping moving up and down the Kent coast.

Our first good view of the Continent was over Holland, which was revealed as a gorgeous patchwork of green pastures, canals and red-tiled houses. Yes, I said green pastures. We haven't seen snow since we left Toronto.

A short stop at Amsterdam and then within an hour we wheeled into Hamburg. Waiting for us was Hansjürgen Zeitzsch, of the German Esso company. Tall, pleasant, in his early thirties, this former young submarine commander was our guide throughout our German stay.

Bomb Damage

Even our brief glimpse of London, which is now pretty well patched up, had not prepared us for the shock we received when we saw the bombed sections of Hamburg, sometimes just rubble and other times open spaces where buildings once stood. We were shown two air raid shelters built to protect 50,000 persons. If this sounds fantastic, it is any more fantastic than the fact that 30,000 were reported killed in one raid on this city.

Political refugees pouring over the border from East Germany have almost doubled the population of Hamburg, from one million to 1,800,000. Recovery, both building and economic, is remarkable and we were told that Hamburg was leading the whole of Germany in this regard. We were surprised at the mildness of the climate and saw tender shrubs and bush plants growing in many gardens.

The land here is relatively light and poor, so we were interested to see what progress was being made at the Esso experimental farm at Dethlingen, 60 miles south of Hamburg.

There is quite a story to this farm. It was rented in 1947 by Esso to provide food for its employees for the immediate post-war years. It had been in the possession of one family for 500 years. The owner lost his only son during the last war, and then when the Russians broke through they plundered the property and fired many of the buildings.

From the first idea of providing food for employees the farm has now graduated into a major experimental station, which uses all the latest equipment and farming methods to increase crops from this rather poor soil. Mechanization is up against a strong foe, tradition, but the scientific methods and results of the Esso farm are making headway.

Potatoes are important in the diet of these people, and yields on the Esso Farm have been substantially increased. Stock on the farm includes about 250 hogs of all German breeds (rather fat types compared to Canadian hogs), some 20 cows, (it is planned to increase the herd to 35) and about 400 sheep, called Heidschnucken. These are cheap to rear for they thrive on the forage from the local heather moors.

We started our host, Dr. Sven von Müller, when after noticing rye was being grown we suggested that it would be plowed under for soil improvement. When he recovered, he said such action would cause a revolution. Rye is needed, and used as food for humans and animals.

A press conference was held for us attended by reporters from five city dailies and 20 agricultural papers. As usual we apologized for not being able to speak their language, but most of those present spoke ours, and for the one or two that didn't there was an expert interpreter. The attention paid to our remarks and the seemingly never-ending questions directed to us indicated a keen interest in match plowing, Canadian agriculture and immigration prospects.

With the interest shown in immigration in Hamburg and elsewhere in Germany, Ontario should have no difficulty this year of getting its quota of 2,500 German immigrants.

Time is short now and I will finish my story about Denmark and report on our tour of Sweden next week.

FROM OUR OFFICE WINDOW

Pipe Smokers In Service Of The Weed

Looking from our office window one morning we saw four men in a row pass by, each one smoking a pipe. It was a lovely sunlit morning, after several days that were sunless and depressing, and they went by on the opposite sidewalk at a sharp clip. There was pep in the air, and there was pep in their pipes, as little clouds of bluish smoke were left behind, which curled up into the azure and was lost.

We wonder what the fascination is in smoking? We ask this question as a life-long pipe smoker. We remember saying to an alert old gentleman of over 90 years that he seemed to enjoy his pipe. "Enjoy it," he replied, "why the only thing I have against going to bed at night is that I cannot take my pipe with me."

We have been smoking a pipe since we were 16. In our youth we read a great deal of the poetry of Lord Byron, among the works of other poets, and we recall one of his couplets which ran: "Divine tobacco, glorious in a pipe, when tipped with amber, mellow, rich and ripe." There are few pipes today the mouthpieces of which are tipped with amber; but when we were young meerschaums and pipes with amber-tipped mouthpieces were quite the fashion.

No Vow Taken

We never cared much for cigarettes and have not smoked one since the month of September, 1944. We made no audible resolution to cease smoking cigarettes. We merely said to ourselves one day in that month and year that we would drop them for a time. Nobody could ever come along and say to us that we had broken a vow if they found us smoking a cigarette, for no one ever heard us say we wouldn't do so. It was a little agreement made to ourselves alone, that we would drop them for a time.

Often we have found it little embarrassing to refuse a cigarette offered us by a friend. We have got out of it, however, by brandishing our pipe and tobacco. No one will ever hear us say that we shall give up smoking, for we have no intention of doing so. It may be a bad habit. Some time ago we wrote an article entitled "In Praise of Smoking" and received a stern rebuke from one of our readers in the United States. He said we were showing a bad example to the young.

Well, we have had only one son. He went to school, grew up, served in the Canadian army, and never smoked. Then, one day when he had left the army he told us he thought of having "a little pipe." And a pipe he got himself and has been smoking it ever since. It was not for us to reproach his intentions; his first memories of his father must relate to the pipes that were around in the house.

Rev. Charles Kingsley

Every man to his taste. But we must confess that we rather like to see a man enjoying his pipe. The Rev. Charles Kingsley (we believe he was also a doctor of divinity) was a noted clergyman and a very notable English social reformer. He also wrote a few very good novels. Here is what he wrote in one of them, called "Yeast": "When all things were made, none was made better than tobacco. To be a lone man's friend, a bachelor's companion, a hungry man's food, a sad man's cordial, and a chilly man's fire: there is nothing like it under the canopy of heaven."

Well, there you have Charles Kingsley's opinion of tobacco and his varied usefulness. Of course Charles Kingsley could be wrong. There are those who hate the smell of tobacco smoke. In the Old Country there used to be compartments on the trains with boldly-printed notices pasted on the windows which read: "Non-Smoking Compartment." To have pulled out one's pipe, or one's cigarette, in such a compartment would have been a crime of such importance that the fire-cord on the train might have been pulled and the coaches brought to a halt. In any case the looks on the faces of the non-smokers inside would have killed the rebels at a glance.

Our own preference is for a pipe, which does not rule out the daily old cigar. There is joy in a pipe and comfort in a cigar. If the conditions allow, a pipe is for all-round working purposes, such as for example, the writing up of a report of council. A cigar is rather for reflective purposes such as "Council Sidelights," when one brings the boys into solemn review and one deals tenderly with their doings.

Brothers In Service.

We are pleased to say that we live a very simple life. Looking back, we have always lived a simple life. If we had to choose again we would live the same sort of life, with the same wife and in much the same manner. We have no complaints. We would like to live one hundred years in the same sort of fashion, desiring little and being satisfied.

One thing we would not abandon, and that would be our pipe. We must stick to it as to a loyal friend. If our friend in the United States sends us another blast we will bow our aging head to it and bow beneath the blow. But we'll fill our pipe and light up again, and it will taste all the sweeter. It's going pretty good just now, thank you.

And thanks to the four loyal boys who passed by our office window that morning, their pipes aglow: They all helped us to write this article. They are brothers in the Service of the Weed.

Council Sidelights

verses the information before the new council on January 7, which we reported on according to the information then before us.

Council Delegations

There were three important delegations to council at its last meeting. Mr. Don Glass came forward in his usual cheerful way, to present a recommendation passed by the recreation commission over which he so ably presides. The recommendation was that council give its assent to the naming of a children's park in honor of Mr. T. F. Swindle, who has given so much voluntary work to the creation of children's playgrounds and other community amenities.

We have dealt with this matter in our editorial columns and will leave it there, except to emphasize that council will be doing a graceful and appropriate deed if they concur in the recommendation.

Mr. Harry Corner, like a perennial flower, emerged again as a symbol of town beautification. He urged council to plant 5000 evergreen trees at no cost except the labor of planting. He also suggested that $1,000 be allocated by council to the care of the town parks, and the employment of a man from May to October to look after them.

Councillor Jones said that Mr. Corner had a "wonderful idea," but thought that some landscaping should be carried out before the planting of the trees was done. And then the question of a Parks' commission was raised by the mayor; and to that we shall return in a few moments.

The Rink

At the mayor's request, two members of the rink's committee were in attendance, namely Mr. Archie Cousins and Mr. W. H. Stoddart. Chairman Mr. Frank Underhill excused himself on the grounds that the presence of his colleagues on the committee was enough.

Mr. Stoddart, who has acted in the capacity of secretary-treasurer for rink affairs, spoke first and gave an outline of how things were managed. Among other things he challenged statements in the "Newmarket paper," evidently referring to the letter we published from Mr. Tom Swindle on December 13, 1951, in Aurora News Pages.

Mr. Stoddart, however, (like the man who told the judge "he didn't bring the evidence with him") brought no figures and no copy of the paper. As the article by Mr. Swindle was open to a reply from any member of the arena board, we are surprised that Mr. Stoddart did not avail himself of the first opportunity to answer it. If he cares to do so now we will gladly give him the same amount of space as we gave Mr. Swindle. It is little use saying that you don't agree with something unless you bring proof to back up your dissent.

Councillor Murray made a strong point of the interest taken by the man on the street, in the rink. As Mr. Murray said, the citizens of Aurora are very interested in the affairs of the arena, but they just can't get it. Information on it.

We cannot say that Mr. Cousins added much additional information to the subject, though he was quite frank in answering the few questions put to him, especially in regard to membership fees, which he favored. The fact is, the subject is too big for question and answer where time is limited, as it was at council.

What is needed is a full, detailed prepared report for press publication, which would inform the citizens on all material matters covering finance and sports activities connected with their $80,000 investment. Not until such a comprehensive statement is made available will the public curiosity, to which Councillor Murray referred, be satisfied.

Parks' Commission

Mayor Rose appeared to have a liking for the setting up of a Parks' commission, arising from Mr. Corner's suggestions. There

"Aurora Churchill." Or should they be for Dr. Boulding, chairman? Victor Jones on the planning board. Well, well, well! Do we dream, or wake? It was a very good council meeting, and it was over by 11.15 p.m. Some "unfinished business" of the old council has of necessity to be tackled in the near future by its successor. We are rather surprised that some of it has not yet been brought to the table. We must wait and see, as some interested electors also are doing!

In a changing and uncertain world...

nearly five million Canadians face the future with greater confidence because Life Insurance serves them these four ways!

1. Each year, life insurance provides many thousands of Canadians with money to meet some of their most important needs. Last year, life insurance companies paid out $240 million in benefits to Canadians.
2. Today, more than ever, Canadians rely on life insurance as the easiest, surest way to provide financial security for themselves and their families. A record total of almost $2 billion in new life insurance was purchased by Canadians in 1951. This brings the value of life insurance owned by the nation's policyholders to another new record sum of $17 billion.
3. Canadian communities from coast to coast continue to progress - thanks in part to the investment of life insurance dollars. Last year, more than $225 million were invested by life insurance companies, on behalf of their policyholders, in securities that helped to finance the building of new schools, homes, highways and other aids to better living for all Canadians.
4. Life insurance dollars help to check inflation! One of the most powerful forces at work to protect the value of your dollars is the sum of money entrusted to life insurance companies by their policyholders. This "money for the future" helps check inflation and thus strengthens Canada's economy - at a time when our country must be strong in every way.

The Common Round...
By Isabel Inglis Colville
STOCK-TAKING AND STAR FREE CONCERT

It seems the natural and logical thing to take stock at the beginning of the year — to assess our successes and study our failures and their cure.

Trinity United Church
Churches, as well as places of business and individuals, do just that, and results are instructive and illuminating. One thing I thought very fine was the reaching and in some cases, passing, of the various allocations — home and missionary. Another thing that appealed to me was the purchase of 100 new hymn books. Have you ever gone into a strange church and found two or even three people trying to peer into the recesses of a single small hymn book? I cannot look over with anybody, so make memory do what it can and let the rest go!

All the members of the Women's organizations work hard — the Women's Association to, as it were, keep the home fires burning by helping wherever help is needed in church, choir or parsonage. They sponsored the Peggly concert, the Star Free Concert; they gave moral and financial support to the choir in their efforts to secure a new choir vestry and new gowns. Now the choir is the proud possessor of both, thanks to the W.A., the official board, and generous contributions from individuals. The three missionary groups did a grand job in sending aid to those who sorely need it, and let it not be imagined that the women of these organizations are able to do this without real work, thought, and a dedication of themselves to doing their Master's work.

Mr. Robert Lewis is taking over the post of recording secretary of the official board, a post long and faithfully filled by Mr. Johns, who wished to retire.

The Sunday school, the Busy Beavers, Young People's Group, and all the official bodies that make a church a living organization gave fine reports, while the Rev. M. J. Aiken said there were yet more worlds to conquer, especially to interest teen agers in church and missionary activities.

Multiply the reports of one church by the reports of all the Christian churches in the world and you get a magnificent ensemble of effort and money, but it has never been enough and never will until all peoples shall own Jesus Christ, Lord and Saviour.

Star Free Concert
When Rev. M. J. Aiken said it was not often that we received so much for nothing, he was stating the combined opinion of a church full of delighted listeners.

Trinity United church choir — Norman Hurrell conducting — and to which the concert people gave a most generous contribution, opened the entertainment with four numbers: "Listen to the Lambs"; "Thou Knowest, Lord"; "Come, My Way," and "The Glory of the Lord" from the Messiah, after which the choir retired to the gallery where seats had been reserved for them, to enjoy the rest of the program, and there was, certainly, much to delight any audience, however fastidious.

About the Commodores, one could say much. There is the fine blending of voices, which constant ensemble practice gives. There is the warmth which rays out from singers to a sympathetic and appreciative audience; there was the wise admixture of religion, sentiment and humor which rouses and holds audiences, always, and there was a restrained quality in their interpretations, which never exceeded the bounds of good taste; and their recognition of their surroundings. We would all like to hear the Commodores again.

Then came the Videoettes, Swiss bell ringers, who did some quite extraordinary things with glasses and various kinds of bells. This talented pair were pleasant to watch, delightful to listen to, and intriguing to the mind, because we were all sure if we ranged a certain amount of glasses on a table, filled them with water and stroked them ever so gently, we would never, no never, achieve a single musical note.

When the lights in the church were extinguished and only the stained glass effect of varicolored light shone out, it made one think of illuminated altars, and lovely shrines and formed a fitting setting for the Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria". In the bell numbers one's eyes could not follow the swift manipulation of the ringers. It was a marvellous exhibition of co-operative playing.

Rev. M. J. Aiken and Dr. Gilbert did an outstanding piece of work with the bells. It is not everyone who can conquer an unknown and difficult instrument in one lesson and perform before a large audience. They were good sports! The balloon rendering of "Irene" was a real touch of fun.

Altogether we can thank the Star Free Concert company for a delightful evening.

Home, School Ass'n Present Trophies To Winners

Medals and cups for champions of the public schools' field day were presented by the Newmarket Home and School association at its January meeting. Held in Prince Charles school, Mrs. Ray Holbrook, vice-president, made the presentation of the medals to the children.

Mrs. Holbrook called attention to the number of names associated with sports in town which were appearing among this new generation. She praised the enthusiasm and good sportsmanship shown in the events and thanked the teachers for their willingness to give of their time for sports with the children.

Mrs. Holbrook mentioned the hockey leagues which are coached by the male members of the public school staff as one evidence of the way Newmarket teachers were extending their working week to six days. She congratulated the winners and introduced them to those present.

The prize winners included: Junior girls' champion, Janet Menab, grade 3, Alexander Muir; junior boys' champion, Wayne Warner, grade 1, Alexander Muir, and Billy McComb, grade 3, Stuart Scott.

Intermediate girls' champion, Dorothy Ann May, grade 5, Stuart Scott, and Muriel Thompson, grade 5, Stuart Scott; intermediate boys' champion, Ian Dick, grade 7, Alexander Muir; senior girls' champion, Fern Flin-toff, grade 8, Stuart Scott; Senior boys' champion, Graham George, grade 7, Stuart Scott, and Locksley Stuffles, grade 8, Prince Charles.

It had been planned that the medals would be presented to the children shortly after field day, but, due to the number of ties and the necessity of duplicating the order for medals, there was a delay with the medals arriving too late for the meeting in November, the last one until January 22.

Following Mrs. Holbrook's presentation of medals, William Blackshaw, principal of Stuart

Tom Kirk Memorial Night trophy was presented to Graham with Locksley receiving the Frank Bowser trophy.

COUPLE OBSERVES 40TH ANNIVERSARY

are swell!"

"The next time I go to see uncle Ed I'm going to go on the bus. Last week grandma and I had a long bus trip and the drivers were really swell. When we changed buses the driver helped grandma and me to pick out our new bus and he told her not to worry about anything. The new driver was swell too and he told me he had a little girl like me at home. I sure like going on the bus."

King City Village trustees will interview Mr. J. E. Smith, Richmond Hill, member for York North, to have mail brought to the village from Toronto postal department by truck twice daily, and pickup made on route of the mail truck. The resolution was approved at the regular meeting of trustees, Monday night, Jan. 28, held at Crawford Wells's store.

It was pointed out by Trustee Wells that mail trucks routed to Richmond Hill and Aurora could proceed west to King City, to Oak Ridges at Yonge street and thence to Aurora. By this system Maple and King City would have the same advantage that Nobleton and Schomberg have enjoyed for some time. Delivery and pickup would probably be timed before 8 a.m. and by 4 p.m. It was believed that such a system would be especially advantageous during daylight saving periods when mail coming by C.N.R. has to be distributed at the local post office at mid-day or later.

Village Streets Named
Carrying out their decision at the inaugural meeting of this month, the trustees approved a resolution to name streets within the village that have not been designated, namely "that the road known as the fourth be named Keele Street. King side road be called King St.; the first street east of Keele and south of King be called 'Doctors Lane'; the next street to the east be Fisher St.; and the next street again be called Patton St.; the first street east of Keele and north of King be named Hoop St."

Street lighting will be further improved by the use of 200 watt bulbs at the main intersection of the village while other lights will have 100 watt bulbs. Three additional lights will be installed, two on Williams St., north of the highway (King St.), and one near the town water tank.

A by-law regulating use of water mains was approved by village trustees to the effect that "the first connection of water to a customer will require an inspection fee of $2, and that no connections are to be installed without a permit, which is to be returned with the connection fee before water can be turned on." The by-law will provide authorities with information of those to be billed for service.

It was also agreed that the plumber who recently connected to the water main on Patton St. be notified to level up the roadway and that the plumber not make further connections without a permit.

Trailer Restrictions
King Township Council will be requested by village trustees to restrict trailers within the village confines. The resolution followed a hearing given to B. A. Upjohn who explained that the existence of trailers has a detrimental effect on property value. In time this problem might expand when resumption of work on the Toronto-Barrie highway begins in the spring, said Mr. Upjohn.

King Twp. Credit Union
On Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 8 p.m., members of King Township Credit Union will hold the first annual meeting in the auditorium of Sacred Heart school, 5th concession, to hear the report of the past year's work and the financial position of the organization. Officers recently vacated will be filled. A speaker will be engaged and films on Credit Union work will be shown. Mr. Joe Ball, first vice president, is now acting president, since the resignation of Mr. John Scott who retired a month ago. The secretary is L. J. McCormick and the treasurer is Ray McCrohan. There are seven on the board of directors. Organized a year ago, the Union has 140 members, several of whom are young people.

Changes In Athletic Assoc.
George Brown was re-elected president of Lake Marie and King Athletic Association at the annual meeting, Jan. 24, when only two changes in the official line-up for 1952 were made. Ivan Specht was elected 2nd vice president, and Jas. Davidson, a director, replacing Bruce Hall and A. E. Kelley respectively.

Others are W. E. Barker, 1st vice pres.; M. H. Bell, a director; Andrew McClure and Harry Cunningham, auditors Ray Burt, secretary treasurer. W. E. Barker presided for elections. The organization set Wednesday, July 16, for the 1952 carnival and dance, to be held in King Memorial Park, when a television set will be the main draw, among other good prizes. Leo Paxton's orchestra will play the dance music.

Twelve tables played euchre at an evening sponsored by the Masonic Lodge when the ladies of members were hostesses and conveners of the event. They were Mrs. J. P. Norris, Mrs. George Hatley, Mrs. Arthur Bovaird and Mrs. Stan Hunter. High ladies' score was won by Mrs. Harry McBride. Her husband was high man. Mrs. Wm. Howell of Oak Ridges and Norman Burnett got consolation prizes. Mrs. Francis Powell and Fred Boys won travelling prizes. Refreshments were served. Mrs. David Judd is on the way to recovery following an attack of pneumonia which confined her to bed last week. Her husband, Sgt. D. O. Judd, came from Camp Borden on two occasions last week, and other assistance was given by neighbors, Mrs. A. Fleet, Mrs. A. E. Campbell, and Mrs. J. Rule. Mr. Judd's mother of Aurora was with her daughter-in-law for a few days.

Allan Glass, aged 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Glass is quite ill. He will be in bed for a week.

$45 For Brownies
If patronage of the afternoon tea given for the benefit of the Brownie Pack on Jan. 25, when Mrs. J. L. Grew was hostess at her home, is any indication of the regard held for the newly formed organization, 24 girls and their leaders are justified in believing they have the support of many friends in the district. Forty-five attended the tea and the sum of $45 will be realized. Some were not present but will give donations.

Receiving were Mrs. Grew, Mrs. Gordon Tetley, chairman of the local Association, and Brown Owl, Mrs. Marion Laing, who wore her uniform for the first time. Miss Faye Armstrong, who is studying for her Tawny Owl standing, was unable to be present. Mrs. Laing became acquainted with mothers of several of the Brownies.

Mrs. B. J. Langdon and Mrs. Laura E. Rolling poured tea. The table was decorated with bronze and yellow mums, yellow tapers and an Italian cut-work cloth, and yellow mums, yellow tapers the living room mantle. Mrs. D. Lewis assisted Mrs. Tetley and Mrs. Laing in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Raydon Dunsford (Mary Tiller) of Devon Fields, Red Hill, South Australia, has been a pen-pal of Mrs. Leslie Glass of Laskay for over 21 years. She is an enthusiastic member of the Country Women's Association there.

In a Christmas letter to Mrs. Glass she spoke of the International Day of the C.W.A. observed on November 30 when the subject for study was Switzerland. Songs and dances of that country were part of the program. The Gladstone Ladies Choir provided the program and the speaker of the day. Each year a different country is studied by the C.W.A.

Mary Dunsford speaks of the purchase of the C.W.A. Headquarters and Club Rooms in South Australia at a cost of 14,000 pounds. "I have not seen it other than by picture but they tell me it is a beautiful place and was formerly privately owned and set in large gardens. Later when funds are available the bedrooms are to be furnished for the benefit of country members needing accommodation for a few days. A cafeteria will also be started."

The Pudding Calendar sent to Mrs. Glass produced by the C.W.A. was a means of raising money to help purchase the headquarters. A cake calendar was to take its place the next year. A handy booklet, it contained 365 pudding recipes.

Cousin In Africa
When mention was made of the East Africa Women's League at King City W.I. recently, a visitor, Mrs. Arnold Peter, a newcomer to King, was interested to hear of Nairobi, where a children's hospital was built in memory of the League's late president. Mrs. Peter's cousin, Mrs. James Donaldson, had lived at Nairobi until recently, where the League is connected with the W.I. Mr. Donaldson was associated with a building firm there where the British Colony was organized.

William Rose Dies
William Rose, 79, life long resident of King township, passed away suddenly at his Nobleton home last Sunday, following a stroke the previous day. Born on the eighth concession, Mr. Rose had been a blacksmith at Nobleton for about 50 years until his retirement about six years ago. He had learned the trade while a young man at a shop on the 8th concession, later going to Schomberg and settling at Nobleton, where his son Norman was apprenticed to carry on the business.

The funeral service was held at St. Alban's Anglican church, Nobleton, on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. F. V. Abbott, of Schomberg. Interment was in St. Alban's cemetery. Surviving are Mrs. Rose, the former Margaret Holden, two sons, Harold G. Rose, clerk-treasurer of King township, and Norman, both of Nobleton; a daughter, Mrs. W. Yeaman (Kathleen), of Toronto, and five grandchildren.

A pleasant evening was spent at "Staaone", the home of Mrs. Stanley Hunter, who entertained for three tables of bridge, on Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. C. E. Walkington won the high score and Mrs. F. J. Armstrong, the consolation prize.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hunter visited Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barnard of Toronto, whom they had not seen for four years. After the Hunters had moved to King City, they had temporarily been out of touch with the Barnard family. The reunion came about when Mrs. Barnard inquired of the King telephone operator if she knew of the "Stan Hunter's".

At School In Florida

At Largo, Florida, Donald Gordon, is attending public school while on vacation there with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gordon, who intend to return to King during the Easter holidays. Donald's class is dismissed at 2:30 every afternoon, with a half hour for lunch at noon. Living in a comfortable cottage at Largo, the Gordons know several people there, some of these from local districts.

These Extra Pounds

In case anyone has forgotten the daily exercise of rolling away surplus weight from the hips and shoulders, Rickey Belnap, 7, can show how it is done. While he did not have this idea in mind last Sunday afternoon, he put on an impromptu show that made him the envy of his adult neighbors.

On the hard crusted snow, Rickey rolled over and over for about 15 yards, half the length of the Folliott lawn, over the icy sidewalk and down into the roadside ditch. He partly succeeded in rolling back up the bank again. Those who saw him wondered if he would roll on down the sidewalk to his home, three lots away, but apparently the slippery walk was less inviting. In October, 1949, when Rickey suffered a badly fractured hip in a highway traffic accident, he lay on a specially constructed hard bed for four or five months. No amount of rough and tumble play after he was able to go about has since prevented the boy from any kind of exercise. Rickey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Belnap.

Eversley Presbyterian Annual

The annual meeting of the congregation of Eversley Presbyterian church, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bovaird on January 17, was chaired by the minister, Mr. David Wotherspoon. There was a marked spirit of co-operation with intent to promote the interests of the church.

Miss Alice Ferguson, treasurer of the W.M.S., reported a successful financial year, the mission allocation of $132 having been met. The secretary's report, prepared by Mrs. J. Phillips, was read by Mrs. F. Curtis.

In the W.A. department, a number of donations were reported by Mrs. Jas. Ball. The average attendance at meetings is 14. The balance in the W.A. treasury as prepared by Mrs. H. Cairns is $278.50.

The church treasurer, Mr. Bovaird, reported a substantial balance ending 1951. The sum of $117 had been given by the congregation toward church extension appeal.

Among the items of business discussed, it was agreed to have suitably inscribed name plates on memorial gifts in use in the church. A recommendation will be forwarded to the board of managers to investigate the possibility of installing gravity flow oil for space heaters. Manse improvements were discussed.

From the session board, Mr. Bovaird reported two baptisms and 10 new members in the communion. The session expressed appreciation to members and adherents for faithful attendance and financial support. It extended thanks to Mr. Wotherspoon for his visitations and his inspiring sermons.

Mr. Howard Neill and Mrs. James Ball were appointed to the board of managers for three years. Others remaining in office are: Mrs. H. Neill and Watson Ferguson, one year; Mrs. Albert Jones and D. M. Ross, two years. Arthur Bovaird was re-elected treasurer and Mrs. Howard Neill, secretary. She was acting secretary of the meeting. Organists were re-appointed,

Mrs. Len Shropshire, assisted by Miss J. Gellatly. Chairman of the management board will be chosen by that body of officials.

Mr. D. M. Ross is manse steward. The first meeting of the New year for King United W. A. was held on Tuesday night, Jan. 29, at the home of Mrs. I. L. Scott. Projects suggested by the executive were presented at the meeting and plans made to carry these into effect. Officers were installed by Rev. M. R. Jenkinson.

C.W.A. in Australia

Mrs. Raydon Dunsford (Mary Tiller) of Devon Fields, Red Hill, South Australia, has been a pen pal of Mrs. Leslie Glass of Laskay for over 21 years. She is an enthusiastic member of the Country Women's Association there.

Building Materials Stolen

A 1951 half-ton pickup truck, belonging to Richard Pring, 8th concession, was stolen early on Tuesday of last week, also 40 bundles of shingles, a half keg of nails and seven rolls of roofing paper, the property of Bruce Davis, just north of Kinghorn. Police believe that the truck was used to load up the building material, as a shovel, which had been in the truck, was found lying on the ground near the shed which had been broken into for theft of the building material. Mr. Pring identified the shovel as his property. Police are investigating. The truck has been recovered.

The loss of the truck was discovered by Mr. Pring's neighbors who had intended to use the vehicle to transport them to work in Weston. They found seats tossed in the ditch a short distance from Pring's. Mr. Pring, the McCormicks and McVeigh's commute daily in the vehicle to work. Mr. Pring, however, had remained overnight in Weston to help out the Air Force Supplies depot with transportation of employees on night shifts.

Mrs. Pring said she had heard nothing during the night as there was a high wind blowing. At Memory Acres, less than a mile south, on the fifth concession, the manager of the Davis estate had heard no disturbance during the night.

The King township men were taken to work that morning by

Mr. Pring who came from Weston to transport them in a vehicle belonging to the government supply firm.

1952's NEWER and MIGHTIER CHEVROLET TRUCKS

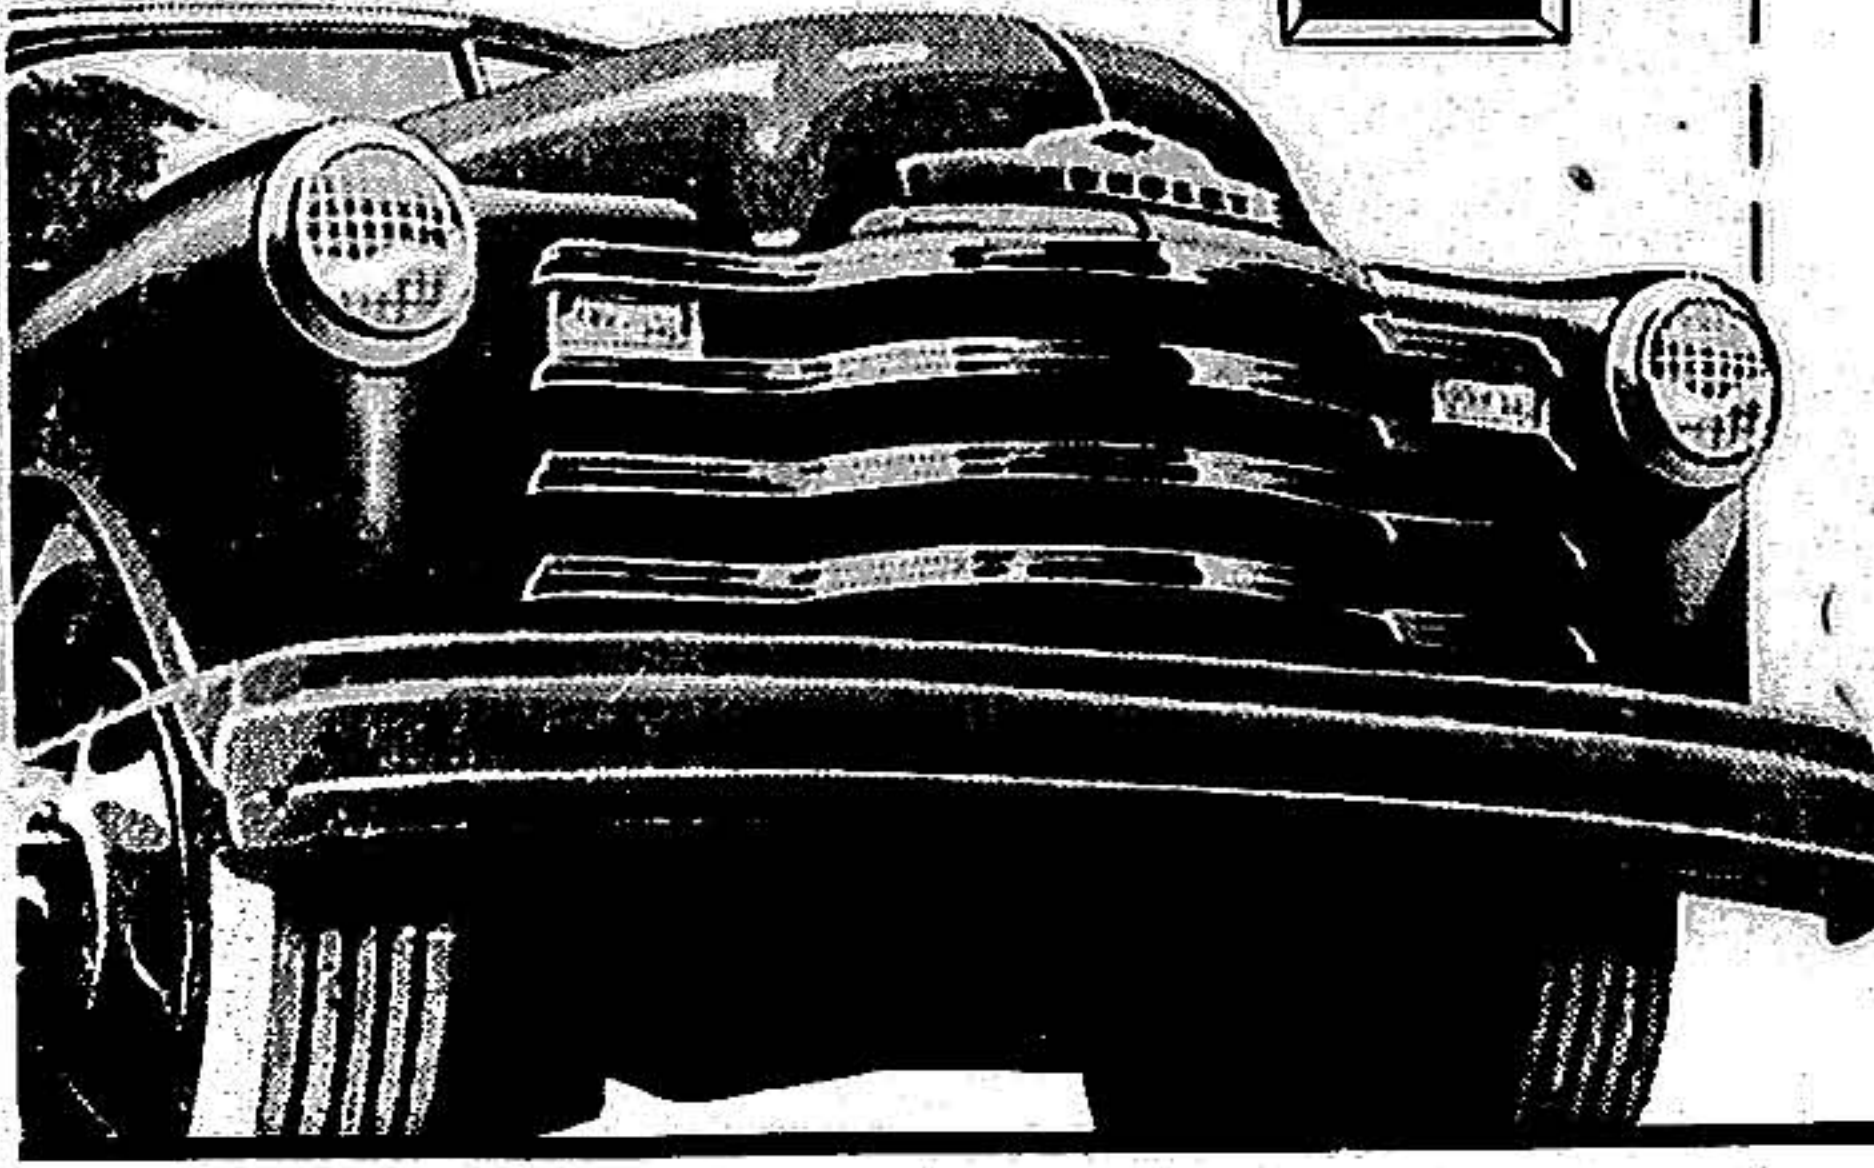

give you
THE BEST AND THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY

Nineteen-fifty-two brings a new era in Truck Transportation — made possible by Chevrolet engineers! Here, for '52, are more Chevrolet Truck models to choose from than ever before! They'll carry bigger payloads! They'll haul loads faster — powered by the famous valve-in-head Chevrolet engines rated up to 120 horsepower.

It's a fact! Wherever trucks must really earn their way, wherever costs are figured down to the last cent — that's where a 1952 Chevrolet Truck, and only a Chevrolet, fills the bill! That's true whether your job calls for a sedan delivery or an extra-heavy!

See for yourself. Check Chevrolet Trucks point for point — count up the features that make Chevrolet more than ever The Leader! First in value, first in demand, first by far in actual sales!

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

BEST.

Models for every load and purpose
Whatever your trucking needs, there's a Chevrolet truck model suited for your purpose. Whether you're in the market for panel deliveries, cab-over engines, forward controls or any other style, you owe it to yourself to see your Chevrolet truck dealer. That's where you'll find exactly the truck you want.

MOST.

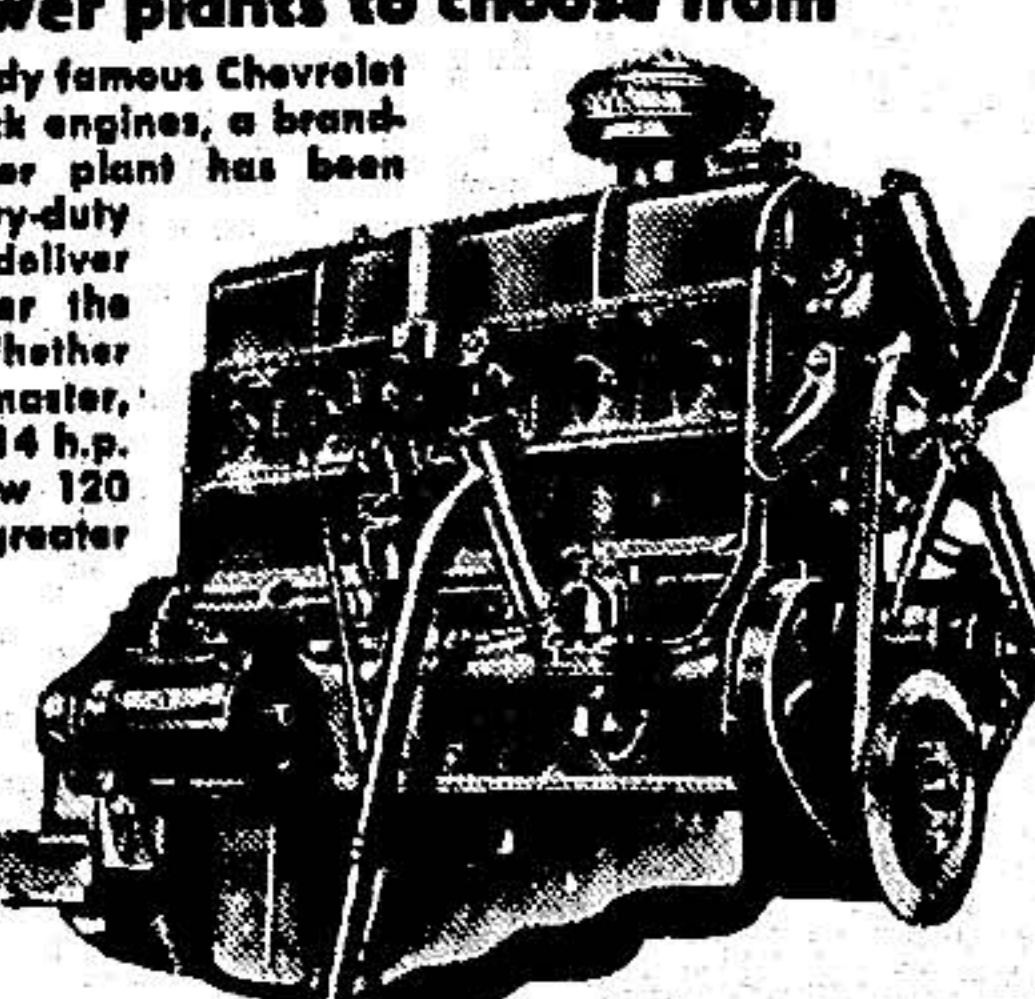

Complete range of wheelbases and carrying capacities
The Chevrolet truck line for '52 offers you a wider choice of wheelbases, ranging right up to 212". Carrying capacities have also been increased to 17,500 lbs. with the 1700 Heavy Duty series. And all this extra payload and carrying capacity is yours at amazingly low cost. No other truck line gives you so much for so little.

BEST.

Axle capacities for every job
The right axle for any type hauling job — still another reason why the Chevrolet truck line lets you carry more payload without overloading. Chevrolet truck axles are designed to absorb the shocks and jolts caused by rough roads and heavy loads. What's more, they deliver greater pulling power with less engine effort throughout the entire speed range. And there's now a heavier two-speed rear axle available for the Heavy Duty models.

MOST.

4 great power plants to choose from
To the three already famous Chevrolet valve-in-head truck engines, a brand-new fourth power plant has been added! It's a massive, heavy-duty 120-h.p. engine designed to deliver outstanding performance under the toughest working conditions. Whether you choose the 82 M.B. Thriftmaster, the 105 h.p. Locomaster, the 114 h.p. Torquemaster or the husky new 120 h.p. engine, you can be sure of greater dependability and greater power-per-gallon from a Chevrolet valve-in-head truck engine.
